SMALL BOAT IN TROUBLE IN WIND OFF PAT BAY

A small open boat was reported to be in trouble in heavy winds and seas off Patricia Bay at noon today.

First report was received at 11 a.m. and by 12:30 p.m. rescue vessels were in the area.

Reports said there appeared to be three or four people in the boat.

OTHER AGENCIES HURT—BRIGGS

Refinancing To Cost $600,000

The refinancing plan proposed by the B.C. government for B.C. Power Commission debt would hurt other government agencies as well as the BCPC, dismissed general manager H. Lee Briggs said today.

Total cost to the province would be $600,000 annually.

3 MEN LOST NEAR ALBERNI

POR ALBERNI (CP) — A search is continuing today in rain-drenched woods of the Franklin River area for Melvin Foster, 28, who failed to return to his home here following a hunting trip Sunday.

The search was widened to include two friends of the young man, Jim Hay and Bert McIntosh, who also failed to come out of the woods following an overnight search.

Argentina Cracks Down On Strikers

Buenos Aires (AP) — Buenos Aires train service was almost normal on Sunday as the military cracked down with stiff prison sentences on Argentine railroad workers who refused to return to their jobs. Service in other parts of the country was reported partially disrupted but gradually improving.

Seven of Buenos Aires' eight lines were providing almost normal service. The eighth, the big Roca Railroad, which was all but paralyzed on Saturday, was running trains intermittently.

Government sources reported 30 railroad workers had received prison sentences of from two months to a year from military courts and 70 others had been detained. Troops have taken over all railroad stations.

The rail workers walked out on Friday over a pay dispute with wildcat strikes of conductors on three lines.

Vault Dynamited

MONTREAL (CP) — Burglars dynamited the vault of a downtown post office during the weekend and stole about $90,000 worth of postage stamps and an undetermined amount of registered mail.

Quebec A-G Claims Confession a 'Hoax'

QUEBEC (Times News Services) — Quebec's attorney-general's department said today the story a Canadian Mohawk Indian told Miami police concerning the 1953 deaths of three American hunters in the Gaspe Peninsula is "pure invention."

The Indian, Francis Gilbert Thompson, 35, told Miami police last week that he and a companion, and not the late Wilbert Coffin, were responsible for the murders. Coffin, a 43-year-old prospector, was hanged for one of the murders after protesting his innocence.

A spokesman for the department said today list of questions was air mailed to Miami police last week. On the basis of the summary of Thompson's answer the department is quite convinced the affair is a hoax from beginning to end."

"And in addition we're convinced Thompson has never even been in the Gaspe Peninsula," the spokesman said.

The questions sent Miami police were designed so they could be answered orally by the killer or a person at the scene at the time of the slayings.

But in Miami, Det. Milton Chesser said "Thompson tells a good story, and at the moment we certainly can't brand him as a crackpot."

"He just spilled out the story about the murders. He seemed to be worried that we or the Canadian police would keep him in jail for the rest of his life."

BLAST OF GUN STARTS BLITZ

Victoria's well-known 9 o'clock gun will sound at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday to mark the beginning of the Kiwanis one-hour blitz.

At the sound, nearly 2,000 volunteers will fan out over the city in a drive for $100,000 to build an extension to the Kiwanis Village for elderly people.

Famous for exploration at both North and South Poles, Sir Hubert Wilkins, 70, died at Framingham, Mass., today. Sir Hubert once said he had visited 72 countries during his career. (See story Page 8.)

THIS WORLD OF OURSPeople and Things

LONDON — The Royal Family issued a formal denial on Sunday that Queen Mother Elizabeth has been regularly visited by a 41-year-old Irishman who reads the future from a crystal ball.

The denial followed a story in The Sunday Pictorial saying the 58-year-old Queen Mother was regularly consulting Tipperary-born crystal gazer Tom Corbett.

The Pictorial said Corbett regularly goes to the Queen Mother's residence at Clarence House by cab and adds:

"He reads the crystal ball for her."

"Why does the Queen Mother consult him? The marriage problems and prospects of Princess Margaret are a natural field."

The Pictorial story was by its society columnist Rex North. It said Corbett, formerly a cabaret attraction, was taken to the Queen Mother by a lady-in-waiting and since then had visited her about 12 times. From time to time, it said, flowers arrive at his apartment from Clarence House.

LONDON — Gareth Jones, 35, played the part of a man with a weak heart in a television play here Sunday night. Part way through the performance he collapsed with a heart attack and died in his dressing room.

BOSTON — A civilian who never before piloted a plane was charged today with trying to steal an air force jet to fly to India.

Donald L. Lutman, 35, unemployed, of Bound Brook, N.J., was arrested Sunday at Hanscom Air Force Base in Bedford when he pulled a wrong lever and set off an explosion which knocked the canopy off the jet.

men's Compensation Board, the provincial employees' superannuation fund trustees, and the other trust funds which are administered by the province, be required to take BCPC bonds paying only 4 per cent or at any other figure below 5.1 per cent, at a time when the money market says they should be able to get 5.1 per cent?" Mr. Briggs asked.

"What the minister of finance and his financial advisers are doing, then, in negotiating with the B.C. Power Commissioners and an obstreperous general manager is to arrive at how small or how big a portion of these increased interest costs are to be shouldered by the Power Commission, because the other provincial trust funds for which the minister of finance is responsible, will in any event be required to take up the remainder of the burden of the extra costs represented by the difference between 3.1 per cent and 5.1 per cent."

POLITICAL WHIM

To satisfy the political whom of the leaders of the present government, then, the trust cost of the refinancing plan now proposed is in the order of $600,000 extra per annum. This extra cost would be paid for partly by the customers of the Power Commission, and partly by the various trust funds of the provincial government agencies which would be required to take up the new low interest issues.

"This is a major instance which signifies the grossest of ineptness by the premier of this province and his financial advisers, or else it signifies a planned design on their part."

Ash River Dam In Good Shape

Reports in the Alberni area that rising river waters were due to a break in the Ash River dam today were denied by the B.C. Power Commission.

Recent rains have filled the dam storage area and water is now passing through the spillway, increasing the river flow.

There is no cause for alarm, the officials said.

COLWOOD CAPERSSudden Wind Whips Area Into Turmoil

COLWOOD — A chain reaction started Saturday afternoon by a brief and sudden windstorm had the district in a turmoil for more than one hour.

This is the sequence of events:

The wind, that reached 54 miles per hour, blew down a power line, which hit a man-hole cover and tangled with a domestic power line.

This both electrified the plumbing and burned out the wiring in a home at 3300 Painter Road, and set fire to the home.

PHONES OUT

It also knocked out telephone service so firemen could not be called, made the water system unsafe to connect to when the firemen did finally arrive, made their smoke ejectors useless, and deprived most of the district of the Grey Cup game on television.

RCMP were called about the broken wire, and they called Colwood Volunteer Fire Department. More trouble arose when firemen found the big alarm siren on the hall would not work to call other firemen, but they used those on their trucks.

HIS OWN HOME

James Bryan, captain in the HMC Dockyard fire department and member of the Colwood crew, responded to the alarm and found out en route he was racing to save his own home.

Fire and smoke damage at his home was estimated at $1,000.

DON'T SEND SMOKE'S TO TROOPS

Don't send cigarettes to servicemen in Germany this Christmas, army authorities advise. They can get them cheaper over there.

Army headquarters said duty-free cigarettes are "readily available" to Canadians serving in Germany. Any sent through the mail would be liable to full German customs duty.

All parcels must carry a Post Office declaration form, be clearly marked "Gift Parcel," and not exceed $16 in value.

The army said that full information on restricted articles and postal regulations can be obtained from any local post office.

CAPTAINS CARRY CUP

Grant and co-captains Herb Gray and Bud Tinsley carried the Grey Cup to a platform set up at centre ice.

Tinsley, a native of Texas and now a Canadian citizen after nine years with Bombers, said: "I believe this is the happiest moment of my whole life."

Halfback Kenny Ploen voiced the thanks of the American players on the club.

"We thought Vancouver was very warm but if there is a warmer town in Canada than Winnipeg I have never visited it. We Americans feel proud to be a part of this wonderful championship football team of Canada."

Gord Rowland, defensive backfielder voted the West's outstanding player, said the people of Winnipeg inspired the club to win.

HOPE TO KEEP

Grant said he hopes Bombers "have started a trend and can keep that Grey Cup in Winnipeg for a long time." They last won it in 1941.

Mr. Willis said Winnipeg had great football teams in the past "but this is the greatest."

He said Grant is the greatest coach, Winnipeg has had and the club made up of "gentlemen who also happen to be able to play football."

The city is to tender a luncheon to the Blue Bombers and make a presentation to each player.

Peasants Dig Water System

TOKYO (UPI) — Peasants in Communist China's Kwangtung province have begun work on a vast irrigation program equivalent to the digging of "20 Panama Canals," the Communist New China news agency said today.

The agency said 551 major water conservation projects, capable of irrigating 3,250,000 acres of farmland, have been planned. The program is scheduled for completion next spring, it said.

ELECTRONIC JUDGE

Pushbutton Justice Proposed

TEDDINGTON, Eng. (AP) — Your lawyer has finished pleading your case. The defendant has had his say. Now you're waiting for the verdict.

On the bench, there is a whir and a click, and a little white-card. The verdict is announced — damages for the plaintiff.

Later they drove to Beacon Hill Park and saw the cairn erected to commemorate Marilyn's epic swim. She is the only woman ever to swim the strait successfully.

They also visited with Capt. Ellice Cavin, the veteran navigator who "put them across."

SURPRISE

The Ryders came to the coast to see the Grey Cup game, which Gus characterized "a bit of a surprise to the eastern pundits."

The Bombers outplayed them and out-gained them," Ryder said.

"Hamilton should have come out to the coast directly after their eastern final," the famed coach contended. "Two or three days in Vancouver was not enough."

Sunday night the Ryders were guests at an informal dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Todd. Todd and Archie McKinnon assisted in the training and boat-work for the 1956 swim.

He suggested — someone could construct an electronic brain able to "learn" all the laws and legal precedents, sort out the ones applying to a particular case, and arrange them in logical order to arrive at a conclusion.

Dr. Mehl sees plenty of room for the flesh-and-blood Judge. The electronic legal brain would be used "only in problems whose solutions can be derived unambiguously from data."

He does not envisage the use of an electronic brain to decide a criminal case.

"There the problem is so much a moral one as well as a logical one," he said.

The once-strong Radical Socialist group, a slightly right-of-centre group, declined to 26 from 71 and even this remnant was split into feuding factions.

Diverse groups accounted for the remainder of the assembly's strength from France.

Who Supplies the Money?

WHILE MR. BRIGGS ARGUES that the price of Peace River power will be relatively high, Mr. Grauer, of the B.C. Electric, argues that it will be relatively low and Mr. Bennett argues that only a "Yankee" conspiracy stands in the way of our golden age, one vital point seems to be overlooked in all this argument: Who is going to finance the Peace River scheme, cheap or expensive?

So far, it should be remembered, very little money, considering the size of the proposed development, has gone into the Peace River surveys, far less than the $10,000,000 mentioned by Mr. Bennett recently.

While the financial set-up of the Wenner-Gren syndicate is difficult for the layman to understand, it would seem that up to now some $4 millions has been invested by the promoters and the B.C. Electric. Where is the real money to come from to finance a scheme estimated to cost anything from half a billion to a billion dollars?

There is good reason to believe that Mr. Wenner-Gren, rich as he may be, does not have money of that kind. Mr. Bennett speaks largely and mysteriously of the British capital which he is encouraging to come here for patriotic as well as economic reasons. But will thrifty British bankers invest hundreds of millions in electricity for which no adequate market is in sight for at least some time to come?

In short, as financiers say, is the scheme bankable, especially at today's high interest rates? That remains to be seen. Presumably, after they complete their surveys and perhaps have a firm contract with the B.C. Electric for the sale of some power, the promoters will try to sell a huge issue of bonds and stocks to the public.

Appealing to Mother Hubbard?

THE PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT has promised to consider the Union of British Columbia Municipalities' case for a new deal on taxation. That is as far as the administration has gone and it has not gone far enough to indicate a definite course charted toward the municipalities' objective.

The plain fact is that the municipalities, with their own serious difficulties in raising sufficient funds to carry on the services now required from them, are appealing to authorities caught in the same dilemma. The problem is nationwide, and at all levels of government.

The Provincial Government has made its own gigantic financial commitments and has appealed for help to Ottawa. Mr. Diefenbaker has likewise involved himself in tremendous expenditures and Then it will be for the private investor to decide whether he cares to risk his money in this venture.

To assure its success in the financial markets the promoters no doubt would like better than anything else a guarantee from the Provincial Government.

Already the Government has guaranteed in the neighborhood of half a billion dollars in the securities issued by its various agencies, including the Power Commission, the Toll Bridge Authority, the P.G.E. and the local school boards. This is the money which, Mr. Bennett tells us, is not debt because the investments pay their own interest and sinking fund costs. That is to say, the people pay them through indirect channels and not directly in taxes, but they pay out of the same pocket.

This example may well encourage the Wenner-Gren syndicate. If the Government can guarantee the securities of its agents why can't it guarantee the securities of the Peace River scheme when Mr. Bennett says it is absolutely essential to British Columbia's future? Is some convenient arrangement and private understanding of this sort behind the public mystery of the Wenner-Gren financial set-up?

If so, Mr. Bennett should reveal it without delay. If not, he should deny it from the beginning. For the people have a right to know, well in advance, certainly in advance, of a provincial election, whether their name is to be written as a guarantee on Mr. Wenner-Gren's promissory note.

Once placed there, it cannot be removed. Nor can the costs and possible losses of the Peace River scheme. If the people are to underwrite it, both as consumers and taxpayers, they should be told so right away.

frankly admits a deficit far beyond the figure at which he had hoped to hold it.

Mr. Bennett wants more money from Mr. Diefenbaker, who is running more heavily into debt every day. The public does not know what Mr. Bennett's financial position is at present, because the province does not give progress reports on its financing, as does Ottawa. But it seems obvious that if Mr. Bennett follows the policies he has been following, there can be little more money available from him for the municipalities, at least until 1960 when the direct provincial debt is paid off.

They are caught between the millstones of British Columbia and federal financing. Whatever the merits of the municipalities' case, they plead in a court where Mother Hubbard seems to be judge.

Good Publicity

ONE OF THE SAVING GRACES of society is the ability to laugh at one's self. For this reason, we heartily endorse the Victoria city council's contribution to the striking Grey Cup parade in Vancouver last week.

It doubtless pleased the sponsor, who happened to be a manufacturer of tea. But it should also please the city solons, as Victoria's float, was applauded by 125,000 spectators along the route and several millions on the coast-to-coast television network.

Architect Roderick Clack and the Jerry Gosley troupe deserve commendation as well for their contribution to this light-hearted spoof of our civic attractions.

Export Plan for Health

WE ARE WONT THESE DAYS to speak with pride of the advances made by modern medical science and the great saving of life and extension of individual lives that have resulted. But we tend to forget that these benefits are as yet confined to a comparatively small proportion of the earth's inhabitants. The masses of Asia and Africa still suffer the onslaught of disease much as their forbears did.

The life expectancy of a baby born on this continent is about 70 years. But for a large part of the human race it is only half that or less, and even these curtailed lives may be burdened with physical afflictions which more fortunate peoples can avoid or cure.

The World Health Organization of the United Nations has done much to alleviate this situation, bringing hygiene and medical progress to many new areas of the earth. It is commendable that the United States is now working out an additional plan for large-scale medical aid to needy populations. Although the first year's cost is estimated at only $70 millions—a small sum in view of the need—the program would be expanded later and bring ever greater benefits.

Few plans, other than the relief of hunger, could do more to aid humanity and win friendship among the emerging peoples of Asia and Africa. It is to be hoped that the United States will proceed with the proposed program, and thereby encourage participation by other countries, including our own.

Everybody's Whirlybird

Think what this would do for the Victorian with the summer home on one of the island lakes. He could step into his machine on the swimming float, take off and go to work almost as the crow flies, saving time and traffic strain.

If enough of them became popular at lakes of the Lower Island, other residents would scarcely notice the noise nuisance of speed boats racing up and down. Progress—it's wonderful.

Meaning Behind the Words

ONE of the favorite songs for class-room singing back in South Park School days was "Land of Hope and Glory." It seems in retrospect that we sang it a good many times. In Fourth Reader, "We sang it so many times, in fact, that we began to improve on the words a little. Instead of "Land of hope and glory, mother of the free," we used to sing, "Land of soap and water, mother wash my feet"—and a good deal more along the same lines. Now and then a few rascals would dub in these words when the class was singing in chorus. After a while, a few more adopted the habit of doing this. After a week or two the soap and water singers achieved a majority, and one day almost the whole class gave out with the subversive version. By this time the teacher couldn't miss it, and "Land of Hope and Glory" was quickly restored to its original form.

I couldn't help remembering this incident last week when I read about that interview with the guest symphony conductor in Toronto. It seems that he had done considerable work with opera productions, and he revealed that the public would be astonished to know what the opera singers are actually saying when they get in Italian.

Apparently they play a game with each other, and while the audience thinks they are singing the words of the opera, they are really passing a few ribald but musical remarks about the blonde in the second row or the dowager in the upper box.

I suppose it's a case of what you don't know won't hurt you. If you think the tenor is sighing about his lady love's big eyes when in reality he's ad libbing comments on somebody's big feet—are you any the worse for it? It's all in Italian and sung in key with perfect feeling.

The chairman thanking the guest speaker who has bungled his address and kept the audience an hour too long uses a similar secret language. Only in this case the audience is in on the secret.

What is sounds like is: "We have all enjoyed your most interesting address and I am sure each one of us will derive a great deal of benefit from it. It is seldom that a speaker is able to present so clearly and concisely the vast amount of information which you have provided for us tonight and I only echo the sentiments of all of us when I say . . ." and so on and on.

In Translation

But the chairman knows, and the audience knows, that what he really has in mind is: "You poor prune, you've kept us here aching on these hard chairs for three hours, we've all missed the last bus home, your speech was a mumbbling bore and if I ever had the faintest idea what you were talking about I've certainly forgotten it by now. If you ever get before this audience again it will be over my dead body."

Only politeness and lack of time prevent me from dropping the water carafe on your head, you . . . and so on and on.

The child learns the art at an early age. Having dawdled all the way home from school, played boats in a mud puddle, stopped off at a friend's place for a while, lost his hat and broken a neighbor's window, he may report that he was hurrying home from school, stopped to warn some kids playing in a mud puddle—he got his feet wet when they splashed him—helped Joe home with his books and then had to talk for a few minutes with Joe's mother—and that's probably where he left his hat because he was polite enough to take it off for Joe's mother wasn't he?—and some kids hiding in some bushes must have thrown a stone or something because a window got broken just as he was walking past it, and that's why he's a couple of minutes late even though he hurried all the way.

With a start like that, it's a wonder we don't all become opera singers or politicians. It's an inborn gift of tongues, and probably has a definite survival value.

DENNIS THE MENACE

If the baritone bends over the heroine and shouts that the fellow in the fourth row aisle, looks like a cod-fish, will that detract from the romance of the duet if the audience doesn't know the language? The onlookers are expecting him to say the things that are usually said when man hovers over a lady's lips, and any reasonable sounds, if musical enough, will satisfy them.

The technique could be applied to other fields, no doubt. In fact, there is substantial evidence that it already has been taken up in a big way by some public figures.

Many a politician, for instance, while not indulging in a foreign language to hide his real thoughts, has developed alternative meanings for common English words so that he can relieve his private feelings while not ruffling those of his hearers.

Reading for the Minister

In a speech before the British Columbia Hospitals Association last month the Minister of Health and Welfare, Eric Martin, produced a fairly scathing criticism of the British National Health Service, based, he tells us, on some "reading up" he has been doing. It is obvious from some of the glaring errors in fact he proclaims, and from some of the facts he omits, that his reading has been extremely limited. I would suggest he add to his reading list the following publications:

Commonwealth Survey, Central Information Office, London.

U.K. Information Service News Letters.

Special Survey Reports in the London Times and the Economist on ten years of National Health Service, and the National Health Service Act.

Amongst other things the above reading will show him that the system used for paying doctors and pharmacists in Britain, which horrifies Mr. Martin, is exactly the same system used by the Government of British Columbia to provide medical services for its social welfare and old-age pension cases. Both in Britain and B.C. the doctors are paid on a per capita basis regardless of the number of visits the patient may make in a twelve-month period. The pharmacists in both cases fill the prescriptions written by the doctors, and the government then reimburses the pharmacists direct. The Public Accounts, tabled in the legislature, will confirm the system applying here.

The National Health Service Act will show Mr. Martin that administration of hospitals is in the hands of local regional hospital boards and hospital management committees.

The following quotes from the aforementioned publications, we think, tell their own story. From The London Times:

"As judged by the health of the nation the service has been an unqualified success."

"Inevitably and rightly the plan has been criticized in detail, but the concept as such has not been seriously challenged."

And from the United Kingdom Information Service News Letter, July, 1958:

"The essential freedoms have been preserved: the people are free to use the service or not as they please; the pa-toons officers to ignore such practices?"

To be consistent your answer must again be "Yes".

The Lord's Day Act may be antiquated, inadequate and harmful. Well then let us change it by constitutional procedure. It can be amended or repealed at any session of our Canadian parliament, if a majority of the members think this should be done. But while it is the law we should obey it.

Many of the churchmen attending the conference disagreed with the Dulles-China policy, and all of them appear to have rejected the notion that any specific Dulles policy has somehow the authority and sanction of religion and of the moral order which religion sustains.

Yet the incessant claim that our policies are more than human, and have about them an aura of divinity, has been having a devastating effect on our prestige in the world. Mr. Dulles, who carries a very big stick with our weapons and our wealth, seems curiously insensitive to the fact that he should therefore speak softly.

Divine Authority

There is no surer way for a leader in the free world to repel free men than to let it seem that in our foreign policies we make the assumption of infallibility, that what finally emerges from the vast bureaucracy which forms these policies, is hedged with divinity, and that only the blind, the ignorant and the wicked can disagree with whatever the policy finally happens to be.

It is right here, so I have come to believe, that lies the source of the irritation which is frustrating the hopes of the President and of Mr. Dulles that they can rally the people of the world in a moral crusade against Communism.

For far from articulating a basic philosophy which is different from Communism, the pretense to know and to speak for the universal order of things is, when seen at a distance, in Asia and even in Europe, too painfully similar to the central vice of the Communist philosophy.

For the Communists, when they are true believers are certain that they know the inner secrets of all human experience, and that whatever they happen to be doing is a manifestation of destiny.

Random Thoughts

I sometimes think that where we housewives score is that for so much of the day we are alone. It gives us a chance to think.

So, today, I'm going to put down some of the things that I've thought about as I washed dishes and pushed dust from place to place. Not because they're my thoughts especially but because some of them at least are probably the thoughts of other middle-aged housewives.

I've thought about the cost of living and how depressing it is when bills go up and up no matter how hard one tries to keep them down. And since women do the bulk of the nation's shopping, I think the rising cost of living probably weighs more on them than it does on men. Shopping is not a joyful business these days. It's dismaying.

I've thought about the amount of pre-cooked food that women seem to buy these days, and how disgusting and standardized most of it is, and how the less women cook in the home the more they seem to want in the way of kitchen equipment. Does one really need a Mixmaster to whip up instant puddings, or a super stove to thaw out a frozen, foil-wrapped television dinner? Because, in many homes, that is just about the size of it.

I've thought about a New Canadian who came out not long ago from Germany. "This Canadian bread," she said. "My boys call it cotton-wool bread. They say it doesn't fill them up at all."

Having seen "White Wilderness," I've thought about Walt Disney's True Life Adventures, and the beautiful book that's been made from 12 of the films in this series. The text of it is an enlarged version of the screen commentaries, and the illustrations—one to each page—are all taken from the films.

I've thought about the beauty of color photography nowadays, and how, already, we tend to take it for granted.

I've thought of the picture postcard albums that our grandparents used to have, and how primitive those cards were compared with the color transparencies one gets today.

I've thought of a stereopticon that I thought simply wonderful in my youth. But it was nothing like as lovely as the Viewmasters that one can buy for really very little nowadays.

Dusting the living room, I've read parts of a pocketbook edition of "My Fair Lady" and parts of a pocketbook edition of Shaw's "Pygmalion." Then to pass the time of dusting, I put on the long-play record of "My Fair Lady." As a result of this, I've thought of the blessing of the better pocketbooks, and of all the happiness and music that we can get from records.

Last but definitely not least, I've thought of the present political rumpus, and how a first-class row helps to interest and educate the normally apathetic voter.

I've thought of the extra-important role that newspapers must play when a top-heavy government cannot be properly checked by a much too small Opposition.

LONDON LETTER

New British Paperbacks

LONDON—The publishing world... Pan-Books, one of the big paper-back outfitts over here, has announced some of its new titles at five shillings each. Not all its books will be at this price but the mere fact that some of them have swept up to this amount is another indication of what's happening to the cost of living in these parts.

I remember back in 1936 buying the first Penguin—Ariel was the title. Penguin Books of Harmondsworth in Middlesex were the people who started all this business of paperbacks. Penguins, pocket books, call them what you will. The distinctive orange-and-white covered reprints retailed at sixpence and stayed that way right up until the war.

In those days it was a great bargain. With the usual novel selling at seven shillings and sixpence, you were getting a reprint at a fifteenth of the price.

But what's happened now?

The average price of a novel in Britain today is 15s (about $1.50). It has been quite an achievement to keep the price down to that. As a general rule things here are three times their cost prewar, so there's no grumble about hard-cover books doubling in price.

But among the paperbacks, what a difference. They've got a long way from that original sixpenny price. Over the past year or so the public has been paying 2s 6d and last year 3s 6d for them—and now comes this 5s touch, a 900 per cent increase!

What's the explanation?

When I checked with the paperback people about this big jump compared to hard-cover books I got such an exhibition of shadow boxing that I couldn't hope to pass on to you the complicated explanation for the discrepancy.

I guess it's just one of those price anomalies that you strike here in England, such as the fact that it's cheaper to mail a postcard in an unsealed envelope than it is to send it as a postcard.

Last year the publishers set an all-time record by bringing out 20,000 new titles throughout the year. But this year is going to go away above that, because by the end of October they had passed the 20,000 mark. In the month of October they published books at the astounding rate of 67 a day and the average for the year so far is 60 daily.

'Save the Dollar' Urges Bank Chief

Halt Inflation, Government Told Or Purchasing Power Will Plunge

MONTREAL (CP)—Gordon R. Ball, president of the Bank of Montreal, today called on the federal government to take action to halt inflation and safeguard the integrity of the Canadian dollar.

"It is particularly important at present that the government should make it clear in action as well as words that safeguarding the integrity of the dollar will take a prominent place in its policies," said the veteran financial leader in an address to the bank's shareholders.

"I believe not only that such a stand is highly desirable, but that the time for taking it is highly opportune."

During the last year consumer prices had jumped by about 3 per cent. The money value of the country's national output this year has been entirely a reflection of price advances, he said. The quantity of goods and services produced this year was no greater than it was last year.

CUT IN HALF

"It brings the matter even closer to home to realize that the personal income, after taxes, of the average Canadian—although 8 per cent higher in dollars—will purchase very little more than it did two years ago," Mr. Ball said.

Failure to take action could mean the purchasing power of the dollar would be cut in half in about 25 years.

Mr. Ball described the magnitude of this year's federal government deficit as an "unfamiliar experience" for this country which, in conjunction prices will soar

reflection of the reduction in business inventories.

He said that without government support business conditions would undoubtedly have deteriorated more than they did. But the government's outlays now play so large a role in the economy that it cannot take the neutral position of a balanced budget year-in and year-out that had been once considered proper.

CREDIT UNAFFECTED

Mr. Ball said "the ample supply of money" has not been accompanied by any significant over-all increases in bank credit. Chartered bank loans had changed little during the year and there had been a drop in commercial loans, a

$8.6 Million In New Homes

Saanich Heading for Record Year; Other Municipalities Show Gains

Saanich has chalked up the biggest house-building year in its history with a month still left before the 1958 building permit books are closed.

A total of 764 permits for $8,695,800 worth of dwelling construction were issued this year to the end of November, the municipal building department said today.

In 1955, the previous record year, a total of 754 dwelling permits were issued during the full 12 months. They were valued at $4,925,390.

Last month, municipality issued 88 permits worth $731,150 including 64 dwelling permits worth $711,500. Last year's November total was 95 permits worth $987,540 including 59 dwelling permits valued at $661,200.

$10.2 MILLION

The 11-month total for all types of construction this year is 1,270 permits valued at $10,276,337 including the dwelling permits.

The 11-month total for 1957 was 926 permits worth $7,035,240 including 451 dwelling permits valued at $6,201,400.

The 11-month totals for 1958 in the other three municipalities also showed gains over last year.

Victoria issued 6,698 permits worth $6,856,851 to the end of November compared with 6,756 permits valued at $6,612,757.

Union Award Won by City Truck Driver

A Victoria truck-driver has been named one of five Canadians to be awarded a scholarship to the American Labor Education Service fifth residential school on world affairs in New York City.

He is R. A. Fletcher, recipient of a scholarship donated by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers to employees for outstanding service to the trade union movement and the community.

The scholarship plan, unique among Canadian unions, was founded in recognition of leadership given union education by the late Harry Allan Chappell of Winnipeg, national president of the brotherhood from 1952 until his death in 1955.

This is the second year of the scholarships. They give students a chance to visit United Nations committees and the UN General Assembly in session.

I was a sleepless wreck

My nerves grated from lack of sleep. Indigestion bothered me. I felt jittery, depressed, drained of all ambition and energy.

Some people suffer unpleasantness because their systems are aggravated by elements in everyday beverages. This is particularly true of those with "nervous" temperaments.

While some people can drink tea, coffee, cocoa and some soft drinks without harm, others cannot.

Postum does not contain stimulants such as caffeine, theophylline or theobromine which can rob you of sleep, irritate your nerves, speed up pulse with subsequent depressing let-down. Postum does not contain tannin to give you indigestion, nor any other ingredient to cause you harm.

Switch to Instant Postum, the beverage of comfort! Postum tastes and acts like no other beverage. Postum has its own distinctive flavor. Make Postum instantly, right in your cup. Just add freshly boiling water, or hot milk, stir and enjoy.

Try Postum for 30 days. When nerves are soothed, you sleep better, feel better, look better. Get Instant Postum at your grocer's. Costs less than 16¢ a cup. A product of General Foods, Limited.

during the corresponding period last year.

Last month 609 permits valued at $401,461 were issued including five dwelling permits worth $60,500, compared with 682 permits valued at $448,681 in November, 1957.

Oak Bay reported 418 permits valued at $2,918,269, including 83 dwellings worth $1,291,600, were issued during the first 11 months this year.

24 HOUSES

During the same period last year, 388 permits worth $2,653,959, including 24 dwellings worth $139,100, were issued.

In November, 1958, 26 permits worth $93,425, including six dwellings worth $82,500, were issued. Same month last year, the municipality issued 113 permits worth $1,769,500 including 10 dwellings valued at $147,400.

Esquimalt issued 219 permits worth $1,383,616 to the end of November compared with 169 permits valued at $844,308 during the first 11 months of 1957.

Last month's figures were 10 permits valued at $45,200 including four dwellings worth $41,450. A year ago, the figures were nine permits worth $51,375 including four dwellings worth $50,000.

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL
84 on Sunday

3 Generations Honor Birthday

LONDON (AP)—Surrounded by his children and grandchildren, Sir Winston Churchill observed his 84th birthday Sunday at Chartwell, his country home south of London.

It was misty and cheerless outside but there was warmth inside as three generations of Churchills gathered around a fabulous birthday cake, three tiers high and covered with green icing and red marzipan roses.

The post office at nearby Seven Oaks had a busy Sunday, keeping open to deliver hundreds of congratulatory telegrams. A message from the Queen extended "all good wishes" and warm greetings came also from President

Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan.

BOOK OF ROSES

Churchill's children, Randolph, Diana, Sarah and Mary, gave the most intimate present to the old statesman—two more pages for the Book of Roses which they gave him on his golden wedding anniversary last September.

The book contains water colors by British artists of the 28 varieties that grow in the "avenue of roses" in the grounds at Chartwell.

CAN'T ANSWER ALL

Churchill was pleased by the flood of messages, but appalled at the prospect of trying to answer them all. He asked the press to convey his thanks.

Famed Explorer of Poles Sir Hubert Wilkins Dies

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — Sir Hubert Wilkins, famed explorer of the North and South Poles, was found dead today in his hotel room. He was 70.

Sir Hubert had an office in nearby Natick where he was a geographer with the United States army's quartermaster research and development centre.

Sir Hubert spent five summers and portions of 26 winters in Arctic regions. He was recognized as an authority on extreme climates, whether cold or hot.

He proved the feasibility of flight over the ice caps of the Polar wastes.

VISITED 72 NATIONS

Asked once to figure how many countries in the world he had visited, Sir Hubert replied 72.

He served as consultant to the chief of the environmental protection division of the quartermaster corps.

While walking over the Polar ice in 1914 he saw and studied "floating islands" but didn't think much of them as bases. He said:

"These ice islands will break up and melt eventually. It would be better to take an island with you and place it wherever needed. This can be done by using a submersible, mobile vessel."

"I'd much rather live under the ice than on it. Underneath the ice it can't be colder than the freezing point of sea water. That's far more bearable than the below zero conditions on top."

Long recognized as an authority on submarine exploration, Wilkins said that nowadays with the upper end of a submarine's snorkel electrically heated, "there are practically no places where you can't penetrate the ice at will, and the snorkel used as an elevator can bring up anything from a man to an aircraft."

The book contains water colors by British artists of the 28 varieties that grow in the "avenue of roses" in the grounds at Chartwell.

CHAVANA (Reuters) — Six Cuban army officers have been arrested following the discovery of a plot against the regime of President Fulgencio Batista, it was announced on Sunday.

Ice in Fuel Line Blamed For 37 U.S. Jet Crashes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Thirty-seven Air Force jets crashed because of ice in their fuel systems, an aviation writer, quoting unnamed sources, said Saturday.

The crash of a $5,500,000 B52 jet bomber Feb. 11 at Rapid City, S.D., which killed five men, unlocked cause of the other smashups, said Marvin Miles in a story in the Los Angeles Times.

Miles is the Times' space-aviation editor. Sources "close to the problem" said fuel-system ice had been pinpointed as the cause of 37 accidents in the past 2½ years, Miles said in his story.

It said water in jet fuel turns to ice at high altitudes, clogging engine pumps and causing flameouts, or engine failures. But if the plane burned, the ice melted. And if investigators didn't check quickly, the ice would melt—leaving engine parts showing no apparent cause of trouble.

Miles' story said the B52 was only partly burned, and in parts of the fuel system where flames hadn't reached, probes found mushy ice. It said that the B52 crashed when three of its eight engines failed as it was nearing the runway of Ellsworth Air Force Base.

Miles' story said that findings in that crash pinpointed accidents involving the B52 and these types of jet aircraft: B47, B57, B66, F84, F86, F89, F100 and T33.

The story said that the Air Force had ordered immediate action to prevent recurrences of the icing accidents.

Miles' story said water in jet fuel is difficult to remove, and that is why the Times' investigation "disclosed an appalling lack of corrective action."

NO ATTRACTION ON OTHER SIDE

Social Credit MLAs will continue to support the government despite requests by H. Lee Briggs that they "cross the floor," MLA for Columbia, R. O. Newton said in Victoria Sunday.

He suggested Mr. Briggs, dismissed general manager of B.C. Power Commission may be making a bid for CCP party leadership.

"On behalf of the Social Credit members of the House, I can say there is no reason to cross the floor. Besides, there is no party on the other side we would want to join."

"If Mr. Briggs is trying to breed dissension, his hopes are doomed."

Victoria Officers At Gault's Funeral

MONTREAL (CP)—A military funeral was held today for Brig. Andrew Hamilton Gault, 76, founder of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, who died following an operation.

A firing party of two non-commissioned officers and 12 men from the 2nd Battalion, PPCLI, was flown in from Edmonton to take part in the service.

Lieut.-Col. Thomas de Faye, PPCLI 1st Battalion commanding officer at Work Point, Esquimalt, and a small party of his officers attended.

Boosters Meet

Regular meeting of the Victoria Cougar Booster Club will be held tonight at Liberal Headquarters, 1322A Government Street, starting at 8.

Sunday Scoring Stars Next Week's Heroes?

It's Esquimalt and Heaney's in next Saturday's Jackson Cup battle at Royal Athletic Park, and if Sunday's "warmups" are any indication, it could be a scoring battle between George Paul and Doug Currie.

Paul and Currie provided the scoring fireworks in Victoria and District League play Sunday as Esquimalt and Heaney's continued their hot pursuit of Canadian Scottish and the league's first-half championship.

The two squads will interrupt their chase next Saturday in order to play a semi-final contest in the knockout tournament to decide lower Island soccer champion.

KEEP IN STEP

Playing at Heywood Park Sunday, Esquimalt moved to within a single point of the front-running Scots by trouncing Ladysmith 9-1 as Paul scored five goals. The win kept the Dockyard district entry one point ahead of Heaney's, who got three goals from Doug Currie as they edged Butlers 3-2 at Central Park.

In Sunday's only other league game, goals by Stan Wiseman and Morris Bunyan broke a 2-2 tie and gave Tilligus a 4-2 decision over Kickers.

Scottish moved into the Jackson Cup semifinals Saturday by knocking off Gorge Hotel, the defending champions, 2-1 in their first-round match at Royal Athletic Park.

ACKINCLOSE STARS

Bill Ackinclose scored both goals to send the Scots into the semifinals after Ian Hollroyd opened scoring.

Ladysmith was never in contention Sunday as Paul staked Esquimalt to a 4-0 lead at the half. Dave Wakelyn added a pair while George Adams and Alex Stewart each scored once for the winners. Stew Baggs fired Ladysmith's lone counter.

It was Currie's show at Central Park as he scored twice in the first half and the winning goal early in the last frame. Fred Allen and George Robbins were Butler's marksmen.

Ced Robb and Tim Walker counted in addition to the goals by Wiseman and Bunyan.

PORT WAYNE, Ind.—Bobby Boyd, 162½, Chicago, outpointed Neal Rivers, 160, Las Vegas, 10.

Problem Has Top Priority

Man . . . are you STUCK for ideas? Does your mind go blank when "her" gift loops up. Then you'd best get expert help and that right away.

The Skirt and Sweater Shop is geared to give you the assistance you need. You cannot go wrong with a choice from their heavenly selection of sweaters, skirts, daytime and evening blouses, lingerie, car coats, slim-jins, slacks and house-coats.

The mere masculine mind can hardly be expected to cope with such a problem. But, at the Skirt and Sweater Shop you'll find the friendly, intelligent help that makes short work of the problem. Such matters as size, color and style are taken into consideration and they'll come up with an answer that will delight her and put you "way up on the totem pole." None of this "serve-your-self" routine at The Skirt and Sweater Shop, 642½ Yates Street, where the buses stop, just down from Douglas.

MINOR SOCCER

It's an Easy Drive If Bumps Eliminated

Ken Cunningham will probably agree that a goalie's life is an easy one if the help up front does a proper job.

That was the case Sunday as Cunningham and his Heaney's mates blanked Vic West, 8-0, in a Lower Mainland Junior and Juvenile Soccer Association's second division match. Seven players shared in the Heaney's scoring feast.

HUNT CAPTURES MEN'S CROWN

Sharon in Triple Triumph

One of the best games ton Tournament at Brentwood Community Hall.

Played between two Vic Lawn veterans, the match went into a second hour as Bob Hunt and Ed Hedley battled point and point before Hunt came out on the long end of a 15-4, 18-17, 17-16 score.

It was so tense a match that it came near to overshadowing the performance of another Vic Lawn star, Sharon Whittaker, who figured in all three senior ladies' titles.

Miss Whittaker captured the senior women's singles title by defeating Bev Anderson 17-7, 11-0 prior to teaming up with Miss Anderson for the women's doubles event, which they won 15-10, 15-4 from Clare King and Jill Kelly, also of Vic Lawn.

Rounding out a satisfying evening, Miss Whittaker added the icing to her championship cake with an 18-14, 10-15, 15-10 mixed doubles victory over Miss King and Ed Hedley. She was teamed with Jen Wells.

Wells and Reg Hoadley captured the veterans' doubles from Rom Knott and Bob Macmurchie 15-12, 12-15, 15-9 while Judy Hubner became junior girls under-18 champion by defeating Anne Knott 11-6, 11-4.

Other results:

Junior Swimmers Earn Trip Berths

More than 100 YMCA juniors thrilled a crowd of 300 Saturday night at Crystal Garden as the club held their annual "age group" swimming gala.

Top winner of the event was Linda Brown with three victories.

The meet is used by the club to evaluate the progress made by the youngsters with a stopwatch on each and their times recorded. For many of them it was their competitive debut.

The best '33 entrants moved high on coach Archie McKinney's list of probables for next Saturday's gala against the Vancouver Dolphin Club in Vancouver.

Double winners in the meet were Tricia Holland, Mike McNeely, George Bissenden, Bev Patterson, M. Mearns and Bruce McKenzie.

McRae on Another Bowling String

Cee McRae's busy rolling another "bow! of twine at Capital City Bowling Alleys following his Saturday repeat win in the house weekly "championship" series.

Formerly a five-time winner, McRae tossed a 799 series to hold off challengers Harry Smith, 686, Roy Jago 555 and Stan Bell 523.

In eliminations Bell topped the hopefuls with a 903 series ahead of Jago with 815 and Smith with 812.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the "Compton's Pictorial Encyclopedia" (Canadian edition) and the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictorial Encyclopedia to Harold Sexton, aged 13, of Stittville, N.Y., for his question:

How Does a Bee Gather and Unload Pollen?

Bees hang around in the fall after most other insects have gone. Hence we notice them more and Andy gets enough bee questions to fill a hive with honey. It is too bad a bee is so small because we miss seeing so much of her fascinating life. If we were small as pixies we would, no doubt, spend hours watching a bee go about her interesting duties.

As we all know by now, every little worker bee is a princess. Like any proper princess she has her countless duties. She learns to do each one properly and gracefully. One of these duties is gathering pollen and storing it in the proper place.

When she leaves the hive a bee princess is actually off to market. And, of course, the sensible little lady takes a shopping basket. In fact, she takes two shopping baskets.

Back Legs Combed Clean

The pollen is removed from the combs by a pollen packer. This is a pair of pincers in the joint of the back leg. Each back leg is wider than the centre and front legs. Along two sides of each rather flat back leg is a deep, stiff fringe. The leg and these two fringes form a pollen basket. As the pollen is scraped off the combs, it falls in a wadded lump into the pollen basket.

Miss Bee cleans herself and loads her pollen baskets, one on each hind leg, in a neat, systematic operation. With baskets loaded she flies straight back to the hive. She knows just where these groceries go on the pantry shelf. The pantry, of course, is a honey comb for storing pollen.

The bee stands on a waxy cell and uses her front legs to lift the pollen from the baskets. She places it into a cell; bends over and tamps it firmly down with her head. The marketing job is done. Then the little lady finds herself another chore. Meantime, the pollen ripens into bee bread, which is the special formula fed to baby bees.

The elements from which asbestos is made are magnesium, silicon, hydrogen and oxygen. It usually forms in dark metamorphic rocks. Most likely, hot water from springs and geysers helped to make it.

Canada is the world's greatest producer of asbestos. Vast amounts of fine grade mineral are mined and quarried around Thetford and Asbestos in the province of Quebec.

Russia, South Africa, Italy and Cyprus also have asbestos mines or quarries. And some is produced in Arizona, Vermont, Maryland and California in the United States.

Esquimalt High School PTA funds were swelled by $1,000 from sale of goods at a recent country fair in the school.

Officials of the groups expressed their thanks to parents and local merchants who donated goods and said a list of prize winners would be published in Esquimalt Post Office.

Guest-Conducted Concert 'Lovely, Exhilarating'

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

"A lovely, exhilarating program," said someone leaving for the Royal Theatre Sunday afternoon after the guest-conducted fourth concert in the current Victoria Symphony Orchestra season.

Certainly as an exercise for the emotions it was a concert that could scarcely be eclipsed. Ranging from the light-hearted gaiety of the "Donna Diana" Overture and the pulse-stimulating excitement of Enesco's Rumanian

Rhapsody No. 1, to the passionate sorrow of the "Pathétique" Symphony of Tschalowski, it gave expression to an almost complete range of human feeling.

On the podium, Henry Plukker, conductor of the Calgary Philharmonic Orchestra, gave a rendering of the Tschalowski Symphony that was intensely dramatic; like a canvas painted by a bold hand in sweeping contrasts of dark color.

SUPERBLY EVOVED

Perhaps the drama was a thought over-dramatized, but on the other hand, the variety of degrees of melancholy, from the wistfully attempted brightness of the second movement to the violent sublimation of the finale, were superbly evoked.

Plukker is a conductor who demands from his musicians the utmost in lightning changes of mood, the most complete use of every color and textural resource. And the Victoria orchestra—which he has described as "alert"—responded splendidly; particularly as a high degree of virtuosity was demanded of every section in the Rumanian Rhapsody.

It was a concert nevertheless that gave the clearest possible picture of the orchestra's mature power and flexibility, and as such was an inspiring experience. It will be repeated tonight at the Royal Theatre at 8.30.

Australia will begin regular production of radioisotopes for biological research in 1959.

Husband, Wife Team Shine In Piano-Violin Recital

By AUDREY ST.D. JOHNSON

A husband-and-wife piano-violin team, of which the husband particularly loomed as a brilliant light on the Canadian musical scene, were presented in recital at Holyrood House Saturday night.

Sponsors were the Victoria Chapter, Royal Conservatory of Music of Toronto Alumni. The concert was their major project for the B.C. Centennial year; the artists, Arlene Nimmons, pianist, and Joseph Pach, violinist, two Conservatory graduates who have been making a reputation for themselves in symphonic and recital appearances across Canada.

First half of the program was devoted to two piano-violin sonatas—the Mozart No. 1 and the Cesar Frank. These especially on the part of Mr. Pach, were both technically and musically speaking, astoundingly mature and competent.

POWER, GRACE

The violinist has a most brilliant and flexible left hand, and his bowing has both power and grace. In the first few minutes of the Mozart there appeared a little roughness in tonal quality, some doubtful intonation, but this quickly disappeared. What followed was impeccable as to tune with lovely legato passages, a refined and graceful performance ending on a spirited Allegro.

Complete musical absorption characterized Mr. Pach's playing of the Frank Sonata. Here Miss Nimmons' versatile technique was notable. Both artists play with a confidence and mutual virtuosity indeed, that is found only among the most distinguished of their kind.

ELUSIVE

In a solo group, Miss Nimmons achieved a quite good devotional spirit in Bach's "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." Her Chopin, on the other hand, while technically most complete found the delicately balanced spirit of romanticism somewhat elusive.

Two preludes by Frank Martin, virtually demanding, were conclusive proof—if any were needed—after the Frank and Mozart—that the pianist has a most authoritative bravura style.

Once more, in a group that included Kreisler's "Præludium and Allegro," Bloch's "Nigun" and a dazzling Wieniawski number, Mr. Pach revealed to his audience his splendid "rapport" with the music he plays. In the Bloch particularly, he employed a wide range of expressions and impressive power.

VICTORIA, B.C., MONDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1958 17

ALL CANADA LAUGHED at Victoria's rib-tickling spoof of itself when this float passed television cameras in Grey Cup parade.

MONTE ROBERTS

Well, would you look at that calendar, would you. December I already. It's almost too late to do your Christmas hinting early.

And it is almost too late to solve a problem which has been with me for the past 11 months.

What shall I do with the Christmas cards I forgot to mail last Christmas?

They are very fine Christmas cards, I might say, full of Joy to the World, Rest ye, Merry, and candlelight and mellowed wine.

But they do not seem to be accomplishing very much, tucked away in the back corner of my bottom drawer.

You must admit, they present a problem. Suppose I mailed them out today.

Would my friends realize I was mailing out last year's cards, just a trifle late?

Or would they think I was mailing THIS year's cards, just a trifle early?

In the latter case, I would be very embarrassed. Because, if I were to mail the cards EARLY, my friends would think I was doing so to make sure I get on THEIR Christmas list.

And if there is one type I hate, it is the pushy type who sends out his cards early, to make sure he gets cards in return.

Possibly I could solve the problem by waiting until the appropriate date, say Christmas Eve (put down that blunt instrument, Mr. Postmaster, I'm only kidding) and mail not one, but two, cards to each and every customer.

Trouble is, this might appear ostentatious, and if there is one type I hate even more than the type mentioned above, it is the type who is ostentatious about his Christmas cards.

If I could only figure out some way of sending the cards through the mails backward, all might be well.

Otherwise, I'll have to try to forget the whole thing.

And, based on past performance, I probably will.

Merry Christmas to you, too.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Oak Bay vandals smashed glass in a driveway, rang a number of doorbells and threw rotten eggs on a porch between Dewdney and Hampshire in a half-hour period Saturday night.

A half-dozen youths ran off before police arrived.

Two naval seamen reported to authorities Saturday they had been assaulted and robbed of $27 by four men in an alley behind a Government street dance hall Friday night.

The victims, identified as D. Kosko and D. Hyslop, were treated at HMCS Naden hospital for head and hand injuries.

According to witness who said he saw the men come out of the alleyway behind 1313 Club, at 1313 Government, one of the assailants was in naval uniform and walked with a limp. The other three wore "civvies," he said.

A Hungarian immigrant accused of threatening a woman with a carving knife in her apartment last week was committed for trial today on a charge of having an offensive weapon in his possession.

Peter Szoke, 802 Blanshard, appeared at a preliminary hearing before Magistrate H. C. Hall.

He was arrested by city police Nov. 22 after Mrs. Gladys Davidson, 802 Blanshard, complained Szoke threatened to kill her.

George Woodford, 139 Goward, was fined $200 for impaired driving and $50 for failing to remain at the scene of an accident when he appeared in Colwood RCMP court Saturday.

Police said his car side-swiped another on Admirals Friday night.

Election of officers will be held at a meeting of the Old Victoria branch No. 1, Wednesday at 1.30 p.m., in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

A police-patrol cruiser driving over the bridge came to a sudden stop in front of a large octopus Sunday afternoon and police spent a few baffled minutes trying to figure where it came from and what to do with it.

It was decided skin divers had earlier pleaded guilty to being in possession of another person's driver's licence, being a minor in possession of liquor and driving while under suspension.

The second charge dated back to May 28, when he was found at Tillicum Outdoor Theatre with three dozen bottles of beer, a bottle of wine, two other boys and three girls.

Re-elected by acclamation to the school board today—only acclamations in the three municipalities were R. H.

FULL BATTLE

Battling for three two-year council terms will be Councillors W. G. Ellis, R. B. Mathews and F. A. Robinson along with "outside" candidate J. A. de Bourcier, an electrical company manager.

Fighting for the two one-year council seats left open by the reeveship contenders will be:

Lawyer A. L. Cox, dispatcher G. B. Elworthy, engineer J. D. Watts, and office manager J. D. Wilson.

In Saanich, contenders for the three expiring council seats include incumbents Coun. George Austin, Coun. Harold Todd and "outside" candidates R. A. Clarke, a federal employee, and Gregory Cook, a teacher.

FOUR FOR THREE

In Esquimalt, four candidates will try for three council seats: Coun. Vincent Rush, Coun. James Bryant, Mrs. F. A. Brown, unsuccessful by-election candidates earlier this year, and E. L. De Costa, shipyard worker.

Nomination day for Victoria is Thursday. Nominations for four council seats and two seats on the school board will be filed between noon and 2 p.m.

All four municipalities hold elections Dec. 11.

Reeve H. Rupert Brown of Central Saanich, only council head on the lower end of Vancouver Island, outside of Greater Victoria, to stand for re-election, today was elected by acclamation.

When polls closed officially

Canadian national motorcycle scrambles champion Tom Richardson, Sunday, won his third straight Victoria Motorcycle Club scrambles championship.

Richardson won the first two races earlier this year to give him the necessary points. He did not compete Sunday due to a faulty machine.

Richardson tied with fellow member Wes Morhart for first

Points toward overall championship are gained throughout the year at scrambles, reliability trials of 100 and 50-mile rides, and one all-day ride.

Trophies for the scrambles championship and overall standings will be awarded at the club's annual banquet December 27.

Competition on Sunday was near Victoria Gun Club property on Metchosin Road and a large crowd saw close finishes and a number of "spills" in three hours of racing.

Sikh Family Forced To Give Up City Home

Jaycees Probe Discrimination

By HUMPHREY DAVY

A young Sikh couple has been forced to give up a house they had rented on Westall Avenue because some neighbors protested their properties would be deviated at East Indians.

complaints from the Westall Ave. neighbors any longer."

"He asked me to come and get my cheque and to return the key," he added. "If I didn't return the key, he threatened to change the lock on the door of the house."

"He told me I had to give up the house because people were opposed to an East Indian living in the neighborhood," he said.

The young man, neatly dressed and with good command of English, was deeply hurt and indignant.

"I never considered myself different from anybody else," he said.

"Evidently," he added, "they don't like the color of my skin. But it's really no different from a sun-tanned occidental in summer."

Westall Avenue runs between Gosworth and Doncaster, a block off Hillside.

DUNCAN JAYCEE

Ajeet Bawa, 28, a Canadian-born Sikh, who is studying in Victoria to become an electronics engineer, said today his landlord on Saturday made him return the key to the house at 1448 Westall in the Oaklands district, after he had given him a cheque for one month's rent.

"He told me I had to give up the house because people were opposed to an East Indian living in the neighborhood," he said.

The young man, neatly dressed and with good command of English, was deeply hurt and indignant.

"I never considered myself different from anybody else," he said.

"Evidently," he added, "they don't like the color of my skin. But it's really no different from a sun-tanned occidental in summer."

Westall Avenue runs between Gosworth and Doncaster, a block off Hillside.

DUNCAN JAYCEE

Ajeet Bawa went through high school in the Cowichan Valley and all his life has mixed with Canadians of European origin. He was a member of the Duncan Junior Chamber of Commerce before coming to Victoria last month.

He is well-known in Duncan for the part he has played in community and charitable projects.

Ray Rawnsley, president of the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, said Ajeet is highly respected in Duncan and was one of the most active chamber members.

He said Victoria Jaycees are investigating what appears to be a case of racial discrimination.

Ten days ago, Ajeet accepted a job at Acme Sawmill and went in search for a house for his wife and child, still residing in Duncan. He inspected the Westall Avenue house and decided to rent it on a monthly basis. He gave the landlord a cheque for one month's rent.

READY TO MOVE

"I was getting ready to move in," he said, "when I received a telephone call from the landlord last Monday. He told me that people living in the locality were opposed to having an East Indian in the neighborhood."

They sent up flares, which were noticed by Island View Beach residents, who notified Saanich police. Police drove to the beach and acknowledged the distress call with flashing red lights.

Cpl. William Stanton and fisherman Jack Eglund of Sidney, aboard the fishing vessel Invercan III, attended and found the barge anchored at the south end of James Island.

Cpl. William Stanton and fisherman Jack Eglund of Sidney, aboard the fishing vessel Invercan III, attended and found the barge anchored at the south end of James Island.

Standing by were the CNR tug No. 1, the Sirmac, under charter to Island Tug and Barge Ltd., and on its way was the Island Mariner.

About three hours after the break the barge was under tow once again.

The 225-foot barge carries a crew of five, and had a load of 15 freight cars.

TO MARRY IN DECEMBER

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Daly, 6118 Old West Road, Royal Oak, B.C., announce the engagement of their daughter, Gloria Sharon, to AB. Ernest W. J. Maddams, HMCS Skeena, son of Mrs. A. Murray, Vancouver, B.C. The wedding will take place on December 13 at 4 p.m. in St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Esquimalt. Bridal attendants will be Miss Gwen Rule, cousin of the groom-elect, Miss Norma Daly, Miss Ruth Sullivan and AB. Edward Mann, HMCS Athabasca.

DEAR ABBY ...

One 'Small' Voice!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Thank heavens somebody had the nerve to say something about the ridiculous new styles we women are being forced into buying. I bought a new outfit and when I put it on to go out my husband took one look at me and said I looked like Cinderella's stepsister with my rococo buckles, pointed shoes and balloon skirted dress. (He was right, too!) He told me if I didn't take it off and put on something sensible he wouldn't take me out. But what are we women supposed to do when we want a new outfit that looks new?

STUMPED.

DEAR ABBY: Our Women's Club met last week and there were about 100 women there. I counted only four women in the chemise, trapeze and sack dresses. Three were pregnant and the other one I am not sure about. I don't think the Canadian women are falling for those silly fashions.

DEAR ABBY: What kind of a stunt do you think the fashion experts are trying to pull on the Canadian women? I went into one of the most exclusive dress shops in town to buy a new dress. The saleslady showed me one horrible shapeless dress after the other, but she herself was wearing a stunning tight-fitting sheath.

Naturally, I bought nothing, but went home and got out last year's dress. NO FOOL.

DEAR ABBY: Since you had the courage to come out and declare yourself anti-new styles, why don't you organize a club for all the women who feel the same way? There's strength in numbers and maybe we can get the fashion dictators to wake up and put something on the market that will make us look like women again. We could call it the WWFS (Won't wear freakish styles) and simply refuse to buy anything that is not becoming to us. How about it, Abby?

BEAUTIFUL CHILDREN... BY HOUSEZ

The two fine children of Lieut. and Mrs. N. T. Macdonald, 2026 Neil Street, are seen in the pair of pictures, No. 1. They are Karen Leslie, age three, and Lorne George, who is six years old. Katherine Marie Harrison is shown in picture No. 2. Katherine is the six-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Harrison, 616 Truth Street. The twenty-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Dominique, 1507 Full Street, is pictured in No. 3. His name is Michael Stephen. Sharleen Lenore Johnson is the blonde little girl in No. 4. Sharleen is three-and-a-half-years-old and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Johnson, 1325 Stanley Avenue. (A Victoria Daily Times Feature.)

Presbyterian Church Bazaar Realizes $1,500

Despite the fact that a television set had been installed in a room beyond the main hall, where football fans could watch the Grey Cup game, the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church bazaar, realized more than $1,500 on Saturday.

Held in the new wing of the church and under auspices of the women's groups, the affair drew a throng of visitors throughout the afternoon.

Mrs. Percy B. Scurrall opened the bazaar. Mrs. G. S. Hodge convened the tea.

Mrs. P. A. Bolt was in charge of the kitchen and Mrs. J. B. Weatherhead was tea hostess.

Stalls conveners were as follows: Home cooking, Mrs. Ken Leeming; delicatessen, Mrs. T. Crofts; knitted wear and Christmas decorations, Mrs. R. Green; hasti notes and toys, Mrs. Len Johnson; white elephant, Mrs. W. White; aprons, Mrs. Edward McKinley; fancy work, Mrs. W. J. Cameron; china gifts and wax candles, Mrs. P. Chernoff and men's produce stall, Fred Yeomans.

Parisienne Atmosphere Appeals To Victorians; $1,650 Realized

It was like walking into a Leslie Caron ballet-dream or a "Christmas in Paris" fairytale—last Saturday's "Christmäs at the Gallery," dreamed up by the Greater Victoria Art Gallery's women's committee. The affair realized $1,650 for gallery work.

Upstairs and down, the gallery was transformed, each room taking on a special personality.

Main gallery was filled with decorations that included soap-flake trees, trees made of tiny Japanese parasols or solid pink roses; frost-touched branches hung with little pink and white angels and wreaths made of nuts and small gold baubles.

In the craftsman show were soft-knitted animals and pig-tailed girl dolls with long arms and legs, also brocade dolls' clothes. Afternoon tea was served in a downstairs room.

Upstairs was the children's corner and a gift shop. A Punch and Judy puppet show was presented by Mrs. Gwen Downes.

To put a final touch to the "Left Bank" atmosphere, in one corner of the new gallery, surrounded by paintings of habitant Canada, be-smocked Peggy Packard worked on pastel portraits of children.

General convener was Mrs. S. T. FitzPatrick assisted by Mrs. A. Sutherland Brown, Mrs. T. Housser, Mrs. S. Conn, Mrs. R. A. H. Lort and Mrs. R. L. V. Jermain.

Heading the different stalls were: Mrs. B. Kjekstad, Mrs. T. McMartin, Mrs. W. Wade, Mrs. G. Clinton, Mrs. J. Arnold, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. N. Reilly, Mrs. J. Child, Mrs. W. L. Fahey, Mrs. R. Horne, Mrs. A. Corry, Mrs. E. Revfem, Mrs. B. Buffam, Mrs. Y. Edwards, Mrs. R. A. Lort, Mrs. D. Willis, Mrs. R. Sidd, Mrs. B. Alley was in charge of publicity.

June Wellburn Married in Saturday Evening Ceremony

In a setting of autumn flowers, Miss June Patricia Wellburn and Peter Greenwood Fletcher exchanged wedding vows Saturday night. The ceremony took place in St. John's Anglican Church. Canon Biddle officiated and organist was Frederic Chubb.

Bride was escorted up the aisle by her father. Her gown featured a bouffant skirt, balerina length, of lace and net over taffeta with lace jacket. Chapel-length veil was held by a crown of iridescent sequins and seed pearls. Her bouquet was blue gardenias with white feathered chrysanthemums.

Bridal attendants were Miss Valerie Rose, maid of honor; Miss Ruth Johnson and Miss Margaret Stephen, bridesmaids. They wore matching dresses in shades of turquoise and carried bouquets of yellow by white feathered chrysanthemums.

Reception was held in Club Sirocco. Receiving guests were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wellburn. Mrs. Wellburn chose rose colored silk brocade for her sheath-style dress. Matching hat and gloves with a carnation corsage completed her ensemble.

Groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Fletcher, assisted the bridal party in receiving line. Mrs. Fletcher chose a gown of green lace over taffeta in a sheath style. Her corsage was

Dozens of Cookies for Christmas

It's time to make cookies—all kinds and shapes—for your family, for entertaining and for wrapping in pretty Christmas packages. Your favorite family cookies such as oatmeal crisps, date squares and sugar cookies can be Christmas cookies, too. Make them in miniature sizes and decorate some in Christmas colors with bits of cherries, peel, tinted sugar, icing, or tiny colored cake decorations.

In the following cookie recipes you'll find:

Something old and something new.

Maple, nut and cherry, too;

Meringue, shortbread, wafer, bar Goodies to fill your cookie jar!

Maple Fruit Meringues (Baked or Unbaked)

One cup maple syrup, 2 egg whites, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup seedless raisins, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup candied lemon peel, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped figs (optional), 1 cup broken walnuts.

Boil syrup to 254 degrees F. or until it forms a firm ball when dropped into cold water. Beat eggs until stiff but not dry. Pour in hot syrup gradually, beating constantly until mixture stands in firm peaks. Fold in fruit and nuts. Drop by teaspoonsful on waxed paper and leave overnight or drop on lightly greased cookie sheet and bake one hour in very slow oven (200 degrees F.). Makes three dozen.

GUMDROP BARS

One cup sifted all-purpose flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup gumdrops, sliced; 2 eggs, beaten until light, 1 cup brown sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon almond flavoring.

Sift flour, salt and baking powder together and mix in gumdrops. To beaten eggs add sugar and flavoring; then stir in flour mixture, blending well. Spread in greased 9"x12" pan and bake 20 minutes in moderate oven (350° F.). Cool cut in bars. Makes 4½ dozen 1"x2" bars.

Chocolate Topped Scotch Chews

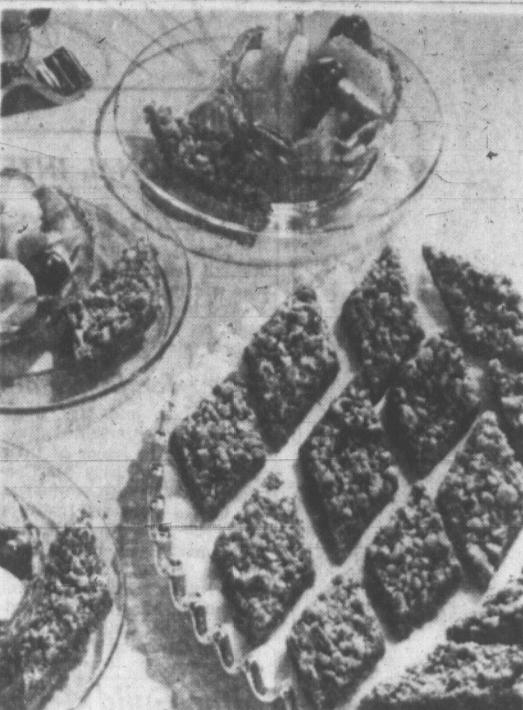

One-third cup melted butter, 2 cups rolled oats, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup brown sugar, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup honey, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, 1½ teaspoons vanilla.

Mix oats and butter well together. Add remaining ingredients and mix thoroughly. Pack firmly into well-greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 12 minutes or until mixture is rich golden brown (mixture will still be bubbling). Cool.

Topping: 1 cup semi-sweet chocolate chips or pieces, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup finely chopped nuts.

Melt chocolate and spread on top of rolled oats mixture, sprinkle with nuts and chill until chocolate is firm. Cut in small squares or fingers. Makes 3 dozen 1¼-inch squares.

The smart housewife makes her Christmas cookies early and stores them away in tight-lidded tin boxes for the festive season. Diamonds pictured above are particularly good for serving unexpected guests at morning coffee or afternoon tea.

Cinnamon Diamonds Named 'Gem of a Party Cookies'

Diamonds, they say, are a girl's best friend. Well, this certainly is true . . . If the girl is playing hostess to a festive get-together and the gems are Cinnamon Diamonds, a tasteful cookie treat which rates high praise with guests every time they're served.

Easy to make, these cookies combine the flavor of cinnamon and nutmeg with brown sugar, walnuts and nutritious whole wheat flakes. Serve them with mixed fresh fruit and watch your party menu sparkle.

Cinnamon Diamonds

Two cups Pep (whole wheat flakes), 1½ cups sifted flour, 1½ teaspoons cinnamon, ¼ cup ground almonds (2 ounces), 1 teaspoon vanilla, 18 candied cherries, halved.

Crush Pep into fine crumbs. Sift together flour and spices; stir in brown sugar and Pep crumbs. Cut in butter until mixture is crumbly. Beat egg yolk; add to mixture blending well. Knead dough to thoroughly blend ingredients. Place dough in ungreased baking sheet. Pat into 13x12-inch rectangle, about $\frac{1}{4}$ inch in thickness. Beat egg white slightly; brush over top of dough. Sprinkle with nut-meats. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 20 minutes. Loosen edges; cool.

Almond Christmass Balls

One cup butter, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup icing sugar, 2 cups flour, sifted, 1 cup ground almonds (2 ounces), 1 teaspoon vanilla, 18 candied cherries, halved.

Crush butter and sugar until fluffy. Add other ingredients, except cherries, and mix well. Take a heaping spoonful of dough and start to form into a ball, put $\frac{1}{2}$ cherry in middle and roll to make a perfect ball. Bake 35 minutes on greased cookie sheet in moderately slow oven (325° F.). While hot, roll in icing sugar. Makes 5 dozen.

Traditional Shortbread a Must!

Shortbread

One cup butter, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup fine granulated sugar, 2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour.

Cream butter well with wooden spoon until light yellow in color. Add sugar gradually and beat until fluffy.

Reserve $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour for kneading. Add remaining flour, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup at a time, to butter and sugar mixture, mixing well after each addition. Gradually knead in the $\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour on pastry board. Divide dough in two parts and knead these until all cracks have disappeared, about 5 minutes. Chill 15 to 20 minutes. Roll out to thickness of $\frac{1}{8}$ inch. Cut in 1-inch diamonds. Bake on cookie sheet 25 to 30 minutes in slow oven (300° F.). Makes 3 dozen.

Poinsettia Cookies

Three-quarter cup butter, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup sugar, 2 egg yolks or 1 egg, beaten, 2 cups sifted pastry or cake flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder.

Cream butter and sugar, mix in beaten egg, then flour and baking powder which have been sifted together. Roll out to thickness of $\frac{1}{4}$ inch on lightly floured board and cut with 2-inch round cookie cutter. With pointed knife make 4 or 6 cuts almost into centre of cookie at equal distance. Fold the 4 (or 6) points to the centre as a pinwheel and press a piece of candied cherry into centre. Bake in a moderately slow oven (325° F.) until cookies are delicately browned, about 15 minutes. Makes three dozen.

Butter Wafers

One cup melted butter, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup brown sugar, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, $\frac{1}{2}$ cups sifted pastry flour or $\frac{1}{2}$ cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder.

Cream butter and sugar, add egg and beat well. Add vanilla. Mix and sift flour and baking powder and add to butter mixture. Chill dough 15 to 20 minutes, then drop by half-teaspoons, about 1½ inches apart, on ungreased baking sheet. Bake 6 to 7 minutes in moderate oven (350° F.). Remove from baking sheet immediately. Cool and decorate in Christmas colors. Makes 8 to 9 dozen.

Women's Auxiliary, Senior Citizens' Housing Society, bazaar, Wednesday at 2:30 p.m., 1635 John Street. Home cooking and other stalls, tea, cup reading, door prizes. Proceeds to go toward provision of automatic washer-dryer for Banfield Lodge.

'End Hydro Stalemate' Sen. Neuberger Urges

NEW YORK — UPI Democratic Sen. Richard Neuberger of Oregon says he is concerned that Canada may extend the existing stalemate on Columbia River power.

Neuberger said in an interview from his home in Portland that he was "not pleased by reports that there would be an additional delay in announcement of results from the Canadian Engineering studies."

He said "The absence of precise and detailed factual information about Canada's hopes and plans is a major factor in the lack of progress toward settlement of some international policies concerning the boundary waters."

"The desire of Canadians to have their plans rest on a sound engineering basis is certainly understandable, but I hope that there will not be further delay which could extend the existing stalemate."

Senator Neuberger, who is perhaps the most persistent advocate in Congress of swift settlements on all hydro-electric power disputes with Canada, also said he was "heartened to hear that the government of Canada seems to be sceptical of the vast Wenner-Gren proposal to spend $600,000,000 tapping the power resources of the rushing Peace River."

"If the Peace is developed," he continued, "it may be another 20 years before British Columbia can absorb the immense power potential of the upper Columbia."

"And on the Columbia rests the hope of the Pacific northwest for an agreement with Canada which might result in storage that would increase the production at Grand Coulee, McNary, Bonneville and other dams in the United States."

"Furthermore, the Wenner-Gren project on the Peace would be much farther in transmission distance than the Columbia from the booming Vancouver Industrial area where most of the power must be used."

Senator Neuberger added that "storage areas like Mica Creek and Arrow Lakes in British Columbia would add to the generating capacity of every project downstream on the other side of the international border. That is why our destiny is on the Columbia and not the distant Peace."

The senator also said he agreed with a recent article by Victoria Times Editor Bruce Hutchison which concluded that Canadian Gen. A. G. MacNaughton's cherished Fraser River Tunnel diversion plan would repeat on a vaster scale the disaster caused to the salmon industry by the Hell's Gate rock slide in 1912.

It took 30 years of patient work by Canada and the U.S. to repair the damage and restore the salmon industry, according to Mr. Hutchison.

"I agree," said Neuberger, "with Mr. Hutchison's conclusion that the loss of the salmon industry is too high a price to pay for additional power as long as alternative sources of hydro power are available. Public opinion is opposed to dooming this fishery."

and I believe that is the important factor in sealing the fate of Fraser diversion."

As for Canada's argument that the United States is being legally and diplomatically inconsistent in the Columbia Power dispute by denying the applicability of the Harmon doctrine on sovereignty which the U.S. has applied against Mexico and against Canada in other border river disputes. Senator Neuberger quipped — "in reviewing the history of diplomacy, I think you will agree there is nothing inconsistent in inconsistency."

Funeral Held Here For 3-War Veteran

Funeral service was held today in McCall's Chapel for Edward C. Freegard, 85, a veteran of three wars, who died here Friday.

Mr. Freegard fought in the Boer War and falsified his age to join the Canadian Scottish in 1939 at the age of 67.

He was a co-founder of the Canadian Corps of Commissioners and one of the few men ever to wear the Queen's Medal with seven bars.

INDIA, AFRICA

Born in Dublin in 1873 Mr. Freegard served with the 2nd Battalion Gordon Highlanders and the 9th Queen's Royal Lancers in India and Africa. He left the army and joined the Leeds, Yorkshire, city police where he stayed until the outbreak of the Boer War.

At the end of the war he was superintendent of the imperial military railways in South Africa.

He returned to Leeds, then moved to Cleveland and from there emigrated to Victoria where he joined the 30th Battalion CEF.

Following his recovery from wounds he was transferred to London and attached to the Canadian Military Police.

He is survived by one son, Edward Charles Freegard of Victoria.

Only 35 per cent of imports to the Belgian Congo in 1936 came from Belgium, the remainder from 20 different countries.

Mercy 'Copter Crash Kills Six in Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP) — An RCAF helicopter flying a severely burned mother and child to hospital crashed Sunday in northern Manitoba and all six persons aboard were killed.

The shattered wreckage of the 14-passenger Sikorsky H34 helicopter was found smashed through the ice of Lake Winnipeg, 90 miles north of Winnipeg. Cause of the crash was not known but an RCAF spokesman said it might have been due to bad weather.

Victims of the crash were: Mrs. Jacob Crate and her two-year-old daughter; Flt. Lt. J. C. Smith, 28, Swan River, Man., the pilot; Cpl. W. J. Bain, 34, Dauphin, Man.; LAC J. W. Wotherspoon, 37, Yorkton, Sask., and Dr. B. L. van den Berg of the Indian affairs department hospital at Pine Falls, Man.

CALL FOR HELP

Mrs. Crate and her daughter were badly burned Saturday when fire destroyed their home on the Bloodvein Indian reservation in snow-shrouded northern Manitoba. Missionaries at the reservation called for aid.

Although helicopters do not normally make night flights, the 310-mile round trip to the reservation was undertaken because of the critical nature of the case, the air force said. The helicopter left Winnipeg at 11 p.m. Saturday and landed on the ball park at Pine Falls, in light provided by a circle of cars, to pick up Dr. van den Berg.

Depending on moonlight for illumination, the helicopter made its landing at the reservation, picked up the patients, and was on its way south again when it disappeared. It was last seen by two fishermen about 6 a.m. Sunday afternoon halfway between the reservation and Pine Falls.

Poor weather conditions delayed an air search when the helicopter was reported overdue but an RCAF Dakota and Otter took off Sunday afternoon and the Otter sighted the wreckage.

An air force spokesman said the sighting was made about the same time as a check was being made on a report from a fisheries employee at Manigotagan that he had stumbled upon the wreckage.

RESCUE MEN DROP

The RCAF Dakota dropped three para-rescue men to the wreckage, partly under water and scattered over the ice about 100 yards offshore.

World Boycott On 'Front' Flags

LONDON (Reuters) — Waterfront and seafaring unions around the world opened a four-day boycott today against ships flying "flags of convenience."

The unions hope to exert sufficient pressure to end the "convenience" system which they say enables an increasing number of shipping companies to register their vessels in such countries as Liberia, Panama and Honduras and thereby escape stiff union requirements demanded in the established maritime powers.

Early indications from many major seaports were that the boycott was only partly effective.

Organizers of the boycott, the International Transport Workers Federation, which groups all the major seagoing and stevedoring unions, estimate that as many as 900 ships flying flags of convenience will be in port somewhere in the world during the four days. The intention is to halt work of all "black" ships in port.

Escapes from Brannan Lake School have been fewer this year than last, he said. It continues to operate on an honor system, with no bars or locked doors.

Dockers' union officials in Victoria and Vancouver said they would "probably" also boycott ships flying "flags of convenience" but had had no opportunity to do so.

4 Men Hurt In 'U' Crash

ALBERNI (CP) — Four men were sent to West Coast General Hospital and two cars were demolished in a collision on Beaver Creek Road early Sunday.

According to RCMP, a late model car driven by Donald W. King was making a U-turn on Beaver Creek Road at Compton Road, just at Alberni's city limits, when another vehicle driven by Daniel John Docken-dorf and proceeding south, crashed into it.

King was thrown into the back seat of his car while his passenger, Samuel McDonald, was thrown to the side of the road. James Lee, a passenger in the dockendorf car, was found unconscious.

Later the two drivers were released from hospital. McDonald was being treated for arm and leg injuries and Lee for shock, and a crushed arm and hand.

100 Loggers Back on Job After 'Conditional' Vote

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP) — Nearly 100 North Vancouver Island loggers went back to work today at two MacMillan & Bloedel Ltd. operations.

Crews at Camp 5 and Iron River voted Saturday in favor of a "conditional" return to work, Jake Epp, financial secretary of IWA Local 1-363, said today.

He said the union is waiting to hear from the Workmen's Compensation Board on regulations governing use of a radio signalling device at the operations.

"This may not be a permanent return to work," Mr. Epp said.

ELECTRONIC PUNK

Crews have been off work since Nov. 19, when they downed tools at Camp 5 and Iron River in a dispute over replacement of whistle punks with the electronic device.

Company officials said the device was used first last February and had been in operation at Camp 5 and Iron River & Bloedel officials, and representatives of the WCB, at which a settlement was reached.

The vote by the loggers was preceded Friday by a meeting between the IWA, MacMillan & Bloedel officials, and representatives of the WCB, at which a settlement was reached.

Terms of the settlement were not disclosed.

SMALL BOAT IN TROUBLE IN WIND OFF PAT BAY

A small open boat was reported to be in trouble in heavy winds and seas off Patricia Bay at noon today.

First report was received at 11 a.m. and by 12:30 p.m. rescue vessels were in the area.

Reports said there appeared to be three or four people in the boat.

OTHER AGENCIES HURT—BRIGGS

Refinancing To Cost $600,000

The refinancing plan proposed by the B.C. government for B.C. Power Commission debt would hurt other government agencies as well as the BCPC, dismissed general manager H. Lee Briggs said today.

Total cost to the province would be $600,000 annually.

He had earlier estimated cost to the power commission would be from $215,000 to $260,000 each year.

He said, despite statements by Premier Bennett that negotiations were incomplete, the premier had ordered the refinancing be completed before the end of the current fiscal year.

Mr. Briggs was a guest speaker at an Empress Hotel luncheon of the public affairs group of Victoria Chamber of Commerce. He was to repeat the address tonight at 6 at Courtenay.

BOND ISSUE

He explained the BCPC had been financed by issue of $32,000,000 in bonds by the province. The BCPC had built up a sinking fund against the loans of $6,000,000.

The difference between these amounts, $26,000,000, is the amount which the premier has asked be refinanced, said Mr. Briggs.

Mr. Briggs said the BCPC was to borrow an additional $26,000,000 to build the sinking fund to a size equaling the bonds still held.

POLITICAL PROMISE

This would enable the premier to "fulfill his political promise to have the province debt-free by 1960."

The BCPC would be solely responsible for repaying the new loan at higher interest rates.

Mr. Briggs said the premier had proposed the power commission either float a $26,000,000 bond issue "... where the rate last month was 5.1 per cent interest," or float a bond issue which would be taken up by various provincial trust funds which would be required to receive 4 per cent interest.

Quebec A-G Claims Confession a 'Hoax'

(Times News Services) QUEBEC—Quebec's attorney-general's department said today the story a Canadian Mohawk Indian told Miami police concerning the 1953 deaths of three American hunters in the Gaspe Peninsula is "pure invention."

The Indian, Francis Gilbert Thompson, 35, told Miami police last week that he and a companion, and not the late Wilbert Coffin, were responsible for the murders. Coffin, a 43-year-old prospector was hanged for one of the murders after protesting his innocence.

A spokesman for the department said today a list of questions was air mailed to Miami police last week. On the basis of the summary of Thompson's answer the department is quite convinced the affair is a hoax from beginning to end."

"And in addition we're convinced Thompson has never even been in the Gaspe Peninsula," the spokesman said.

The questions sent Miami police were designed so they could be answered only by the killer or a person at the scene at the time of the slayings.

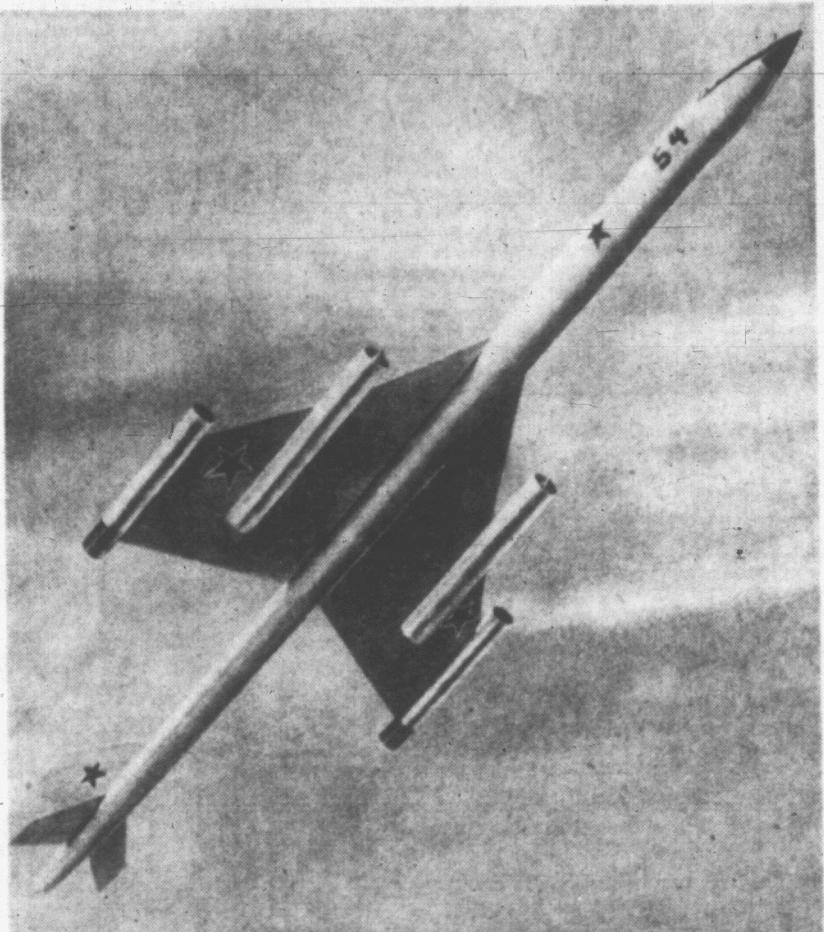

But in Miami, Det. Milton Chesser said "Thompson tells a good story, and at the moment we certainly can't brand him as a crackpot . . ."

"He just spilled out the story about the murders. He seems to be worried that we or the Canadian police would keep him in jail for the rest of his life."

Furniture Goes Back In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—The furniture is back in hotel lobbies in Vancouver and a heavy rain has washed the streets of the last signs of celebrations marking the 1958 Grey Cup football final.

The whoops surrounding Saturday's national grid play-off is ended for another year. The teams are gone and so are most of the visiting fans.

Today the city went to work as normal. Few residents had to replace plate-glass windows broken Saturday night when 15,000 persons—most of them from Vancouver and many of them young hoodlums seeking trouble—swarmed about downtown streets, apparently waiting for something to happen. Little did.

SUBDUED FANS

Without any organized function for fans of either side to get the ball rolling, visiting fans seemed staid and subdued. Hotel lobbies had heavy police protection and were almost barren of celebrants.

Private parties—including those staged by the Ticats and the Bombers for team personnel only—went on upstairs and hallways abounded with western supporters, voicing their last whoops or trudging to the trains.

"He just spilled out the story about the murders. He seems to be worried that we or the Canadian police would keep him in jail for the rest of his life."

BLAST OF GUN STARTS BLITZ

Victoria's well-known 9 o'clock gun will sound at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday to mark the beginning of the Kiwanis one-hour blitz.

At the sound, nearly 2,300 volunteers will fan out over the city in a drive for $100,000 to build an extension to the Kiwanis Village for elderly people.

BIG WELCOME FOR LOSERS

VANCOUVER (CP)—Hamilton Tiger-Cats left here at 7:30 a.m. today on a special Trans-Canada Air Lines flight for their return to Ontario.

They are to get a warm fan welcome in Hamilton tonight despite their loss in the Grey Cup Saturday.

POKE FUN

The Bombers beat Hamilton Tiger-Cats 35-28 Saturday and Winnipeg folks had the time of their lives poking fun at Ticat coach Jim Trimble for predicting a Hamilton win.

To the tune of Tom Dooley, the crowd roared: "Hang down your head Jim Trimble,

"Hang down your head and cry . . ."

A year ago Winnipeg fans didn't have much to get excited about. Their team lost 32-7 to Hamilton in the cup final at Toronto. They made up for it Sunday.

Winnipeg coach Bud Grant, speaking over the public address system, said:

"One year ago tonight in this same arena a lot of us made a vow. That vow was to come back this year with the Grey Cup . . ."

"This victory was strictly a team effort—100 per cent effort. And everyone in this arena is part of our team."

The fans broke into a raucous cheering. Then they went through "for they are jolly good fellows . . ."

100 FORCED FROM HOMES AT ALBERNI

ALBERNI—Police and civil defence officials evacuated 100 persons from their homes in the Kitsukis Creek area early today when the creek burst its banks and flooded about 30 properties to depths up to five feet.

The creek, swollen by 52 hours of continuous heavy rain, broke loose at about 5 a.m. Police and others had to use boats to reach the homes of householders and tell them of their plight.

The creek waters "backed up" when the Somass River, chief drainage stream for the whole of the valley area, could not handle the additional flooding.

Ike Pledges Firm Stand On Berlin

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower has reaffirmed United States determination to refrain from any course which would abandon West Berlin to Russian domination.

The reaffirmation came on Sunday after Eisenhower and State Secretary Dulles had discussed the Berlin crisis at the president's vacation headquarters at the Augusta National Golf Club.

In a statement afterward dealing with Soviet manoeuvres aimed at shoving the Western Allies out of divided Berlin, Dulles said:

"The U.S. does not contemplate any change" in its program to develop and build a plane operated by nuclear power even though the Soviets may have a "slight lead."

He said the U.S. "is working on a nuclear reactor to provide the heat for a turbo-jet engine.

The AEC said tests of the laboratory model demonstrated the feasibility of the engine, designed by the General Electric Company.

No airplane has yet been built to go with the engine, although work on design studies have been under way for several years. Aviation Week said the Russian plane is powered with two nuclear engines and two conventional jet engines.

The magazine said the plane weighs 300,000 pounds, is 195 feet long and has a wingspread of 78 feet. The eight-jet U.S. B-52 bomber weighs about 400,000 pounds and is 156 feet long.

U.S. Magazine Gives Details Of Huge Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia already is flying a nuclear-powered bomber, the magazine Aviation Week reports. It says the United States is at least four years behind Russia in this respect.

MYSTERY JET VAPOR TRAILS OVER MOSCOW

MOSCOW (AP)—Swift aircraft of undetermined design are spinning vapor trails high over Moscow these days. There is speculation the Russians may be using nuclear power in one or more of the mystery craft.

Official Soviet confirmation of this possibility is lacking, although it is public knowledge that Russian designers and scientists have long been hard at work on the problem.

Can Be Flown for Days or Weeks

A major advantage of a nuclear-powered plane is that it might be flown for days or weeks without refuelling.

Among major obstacles to its development are the need for special metals able to withstand the intense heat of an atomic reactor, and the weight of the shielding now considered necessary to protect the crew from radiation.

In an editorial on the new Soviet plane, Aviation Week editor Robert Hotz says the aircraft's appearance "comes as a sickening shock" to U.S. Air Force and Naval officers, Atomic Energy Commission technicians and industry engineers who have been working on U.S. nuclear projects "despite financial starvation, scientific scoffing and top A-plane."

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

LONDON — The Royal Family issued a formal denial on Sunday that Queen Mother Elizabeth has been regularly visited by a 41-year-old Irishman who reads the future from a crystal ball.

The denial followed a story

In the Sunday Pictorial saying the 58-year-old Queen Mother was regularly consulting Tipperary-born crystal gazer Tom Corbett.

The Pictorial said Corbett regularly goes to the Queen Mother's residence at Clarence House by cab and added:

"He reads the crystal ball for her."

"Why does the Queen Mother consult him? The marriage problems and prospects of Princess Margaret are a natural field."

The Pictorial story was by its society columnist Rex North. It said Corbett, formerly a cabaret attraction, was taken to the Queen Mother by a lady-in-waiting and since then had visited her about 12 times. From time to time, it said, flowers arrive at his apartment from Clarence House.

LONDON — Gareth Jones, 35, played the part of a man with a weak heart in a television play here Sunday night. Part way through the performance he collapsed with a heart attack and died in his dressing room.

BOSTON — A civilian who never before piloted a plane was charged today with trying to steal an air force jet to fly to India.

Donald L. Lutman, 35, unemployed, of Bound Brook, N.J., was arrested Sunday at Hanscom Air Force Base in Bedford when he pulled a wrong lever and set off an explosion which knocked the canopy off the jet.

Mr. Briggs asked.

"What the minister of Finance and his financial advisers are doing, then, in negotiating with the B.C. Power Commissioners and an obstreperous general manager is to arrive at how small or how big a portion of these increased interest costs are to be shouldered by the Power Commission, because the other provincial trust funds for which the minister of finance is responsible, will in any event be required to take up the remainder of the burden of the extra costs represented by the difference between 3.1 per cent and 5.1 per cent."

POLITICAL WHIM

"To satisfy the political whims of the leaders of the present government, then, the trust cost of the refinancing plan now proposed is in the order of $600,000 extra-per annum. This extra cost would be paid for partly by the customers of the Power Commission, and partly by the various trust funds of the provincial government agencies which would be required to take up the new, low interest issues."

"This is a major instance which signifies the grossest of ineptness by the premier of this province and his financial advisers, or else it signifies a planned design on their part."

Ash River Dam In Good Shape

Reports in the Alberni area that rising river waters were due to a break in the Ash River dam today were denied by the B.C. Power Commission.

Recent rains have filled the dam storage area and water is now passing through the spillway, increasing the river flow.

There is no cause for alarm, the officials said.

Sudden Wind Whips Area Into Turmoil

COLWOOD — A chain reaction started Saturday afternoon by a brief and sudden windstorm had the district in a turmoil for more than one hour.

This is the sequence of events:

The wind, that reached 54 miles per hour, blew down a power line, which hit a man-hole cover and tangled with a domestic power line.

This both ruptured the plumbing and burned out the wiring in a home at 3300 Painter Road, and set fire to the war.

PHONES OUT

It also knocked out telephone service so firemen could not be called, made the water system unsafe to connect to when the firemen did finally arrive, made their smoke ejectors useless, and deprived most of the district of the Grey Cup game on television.

RCMP were called about the broken wire, and they called Colwood Volunteer Fire Department. More trouble arose when firemen found the big alarm siren on the hall would not work to call other firemen, but they used those on their trucks.

HIS OWN HOME

James Bryan, captain in the HMC Dockyard fire department and member of the Colwood crew, responded to the alarm and found out en route he was racing to save his own home.

Fire and smoke damage at his home was estimated at $1,000.

DON'T SEND SMOKES TO TROOPS

Don't send cigarettes to servicemen in Germany this Christmas, army authorities advise. They can get them cheaper over there.

Army headquarters said duty-free cigarettes are "readily available" to Canadians serving in Germany. Any sent through the mail would be liable to full German customs duty.

All parcels must carry a Post Office declaration form, clearly marked "Gift Parcel," and not exceed $16 in value.

The army said that full information on restricted articles and postal regulations can be obtained from any local post office.

Government leaders later offered formal praise at an official reception. Mayor Stephen Juba turned up with a Siberian tiger cub so Grant could show how he handles striped tabbies. The tiger nosed dutifully at the Grey Cup as Grant posed with the trophy for photographers.

BRAVE WEATHER

Bombers arrived home at 4.50 p.m. They were bundled into cars for a motorcade to the arena. Thousands braved biting weather to line the streets, some standing on snow piled six feet high.

The team members received a standing ovation as they walked into the arena. The crowd had watched a junior hockey game and remained for the special ceremony.

Mr. Juba and deputy premier Erick Willis brought official congratulations to the Bombers.

CAPTAINS CARRY CUP

Grant and co-captains Herb Gray and Bud Tinsley carried the Grey Cup to a platform set up at centre ice.

Tinsley, a native of Texas and now a Canadian citizen after nine years with Bombers, said: "I believe this is the happiest moment of my whole life."

Halfback Kenny Ploen voiced the thanks of the American players on the club. "We thought Vancouver was very warm but if there is a warmer town in Canada than Winnipeg I have never visited it. We Americans feel proud to be a part of this wonderful championship football team of Canada."

Gord Rowlands' defensive backfielder voted the West's outstanding player, said the people of Winnipeg inspired the club to win.

HOPE TO KEEP

Grant said he hopes Bombers "have started a trend and can keep that Grey Cup in Winnipeg for a long time." They last won it in 1941.

Mr. Willis said Winnipeg had great football teams in the past "but this is the greatest."

He said Grant is the greatest coach Winnipeg has had and the club made up of "gentlemen who also happen to be able to play football."

The city is to tender a luncheon to the Blue Bombers and make a presentation to each player.

OTTAWA (UPI) — Informed sources said today that Trade Minister Gordon Churchill at one point threatened to resign from the cabinet over the approval last week of a 17-percent freight rate increase for the railways.

Sources said Churchill, a senior member of the cabinet, did not see eye-to-eye with some of his colleagues on a decision to uphold the increase, authorized two weeks ago by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Word of the rift reached the capital from Malaya where touring Prime Minister John

Diefenbaker and his party were visiting. Acting Prime Minister Howard Green was in communication with Diefenbaker before and after the cabinet's decision was handed down last Wednesday.

Churchill himself said there had been "the usual discussion" in the cabinet, but he denied there had been any threats of resignation.

Asked if he was in agreement with the cabinet's decision to let the increase stand, the 60-year-old Winnipeg barrister replied:

"Frankly, I don't want to say anything about it." The cabinet approved the increase to the cabin at a hearing held last Monday. The cabinet in April threw out an earlier freight rate increase and declared a hold-the-line policy on wages and prices.

Random Thoughts

I sometimes think that where we housewives score is that for so much of the day we are alone. It gives us a chance to think.

So, today, I'm going to put down some of the things that I've thought about as I washed dishes and pushed dust from place to place. Not because they're my thoughts especially but because some of them at least are probably the thoughts of other middle-aged housewives.

I've thought about the cost of living and how depressing it is when bills go up and up no matter how hard one tries to keep them down. And since women do the bulk of the nation's shopping, I think the rising cost of living probably weighs more on them than it does on men. Shopping is not a joyful business these days. It's dismaying.

I've thought about the amount of pre-cooked food that women seem to buy these days, and how disgusting and standardized most of it is, and how the less women cook in the home the more they seem to want in the way of kitchen equipment. Does one really need a Mixmaster to whip up instant puddings, or a super stove to thaw out a frozen, foil-wrapped television dinner? Because, in many homes, that is just about the size of it.

I've thought about a New Canadian who came out not long ago from Germany. "This Canadian bread," she said. "My boys call

New British Paperbacks

LONDON—The publishing world . . . Pan Books, one of the big paper-back outfits over here, has announced some of its new titles at five shillings each. Not all its books will be at this price but the mere fact that some of them have crept up to this amount is another indication of what's happening to the cost of living in these parts.

I remember back in 1936 buying the first Penguin—Ariel was the title. Penguin Books of Harmondsworth in Middlesex were the people who started all this business of paperbacks. Penguins, pocket books, call them what you will. The distinctive orange-and-white covered reprints retailed at sixpence and stayed that way right up until the war.

In those days it was a great bargain. With the usual novel selling at seven shillings and sixpence, you were getting a reprint at a fifteenth of the price. But what's happened now?

The average price of a novel in Britain today is 15s (about $1.50). It has been quite an achievement to keep the price down to that. As a general rule, things here are three times their cost prewar, so there's no grumble about hard-cover books doubling in price.

But among the paperbacks, what a difference. They've got a long way from that original sixpenny price. Over the past year or so the public has been paying 2s 6d and

Last but definitely not least, I've thought of the present political rumpus, and how a first-class row helps to interest and educate the normally apathetic voter.

I've thought of the extra-important role that newspapers must play when a top-heavy government cannot be properly checked by a much too small Opposition.

Dusting the living room, I've read parts of a pocketbook edition of "My Fair Lady" and parts of a pocketbook edition of Shaw's "Pygmalion." Then on the long-play record of "My Fair Lady." As a result of this, I've thought of the blessing of the better pocketbooks, and of all the happiness and music that we can get from records.

'Save the Dollar' Urges Bank Chief

Halt Inflation, Government Told Or Purchasing Power Will Plunge

MONTREAL (CP) — Gordon R. Ball, president of the Bank of Montreal, today called on the federal government to take action to halt inflation and safeguard the integrity of the Canadian dollar.

"It is particularly important at present that the government should make it clear in action as well as words that safeguarding the integrity of the dollar will take a prominent place in its policies," said the veteran financial leader in an address to the bank's shareholders.

"I believe not only that such a stand is highly desirable, but that the time for taking it is highly opportune."

During the last year consumer prices had jumped by about 3 per cent. The money value of the country's national output this year has been entirely a reflection of price advances, he said. The quantity of goods and services produced this year was no greater than it was last year.

CUT IN HALF

"It brings the matter even closer to home to realize that the personal income, after taxes, of the average Canadian—although 8 per cent higher in dollars—will purchase very little more than it did two years ago," Mr. Ball said.

Failure to take action could mean the purchasing power of the dollar would be cut in half in about 25 years.

Mr. Ball described the magnitude of this year's federal government deficit as an "unfamiliar experience for this country" which, in conjunction reflection of the reduction in business inventories.

He said that without government support business conditions would undoubtedly have deteriorated more than they did. But the government's outlays now play so large a role in the economy that it cannot take the neutral position of a balanced budget year-in and year-out that had been once considered proper.

CREDIT UNAFFECTED

Mr. Ball said "the ample supply of money" has not been accompanied by any significant over-all increases in bank credit. Chartered bank loans had changed little during the year and there had been a drop in commercial loans, a

Ottawa Floats New $400M Bond Issue

OTTAWA (CP)—The government announced today it will pay off a bank loan with Canada savings bonds proceeds but will go to the public immediately for another $400,000,000 to cover its need for more money.

The new $400,000,000 issue—adding to federal interest costs—will be split in two maturities: One, a 4 per cent, four-year non-callable issue due Jan. 1, 1963, offered at $98.75 for $10 bond, thus yielding about 4.34 per cent; the second a 3 per cent, one-year non-callable issue due Dec. 15, 1959, offered at $99.25, yielding 3.77 per cent.

A new feature on the 4 per cent issue is that while the government won't be able to call the bonds for payment before they mature, the buyer can redeem them in two years, or every half-year thereafter, at the buying price of $98.75. Three-month notice of intention is needed.

The new bonds are being offered immediately through investment dealers and banks. Subscriptions books are to be opened at the Bank of Canada Wednesday.

An indication of the sharp rise in interest rates which the government has to pay to borrow money is given by the fact that in the huge conversion loan of last July, one three-year bond maturity yielded 3 per cent compared with the 4.34 per cent in the new four-year maturity which the buyer can redeem in two years.

Finance Minister Fleming also announced that so far, some $555,000,000 worth of 1958 Canada savings bonds have been sold. This, he said, is "very satisfactory." Part of the money will be used to pay off a $400,000,000 bank loan made last July at 2½ per cent and maturing Dec. 15.

Mr. Fleming gave no indication why the new $400,000,000 issue is required except to say that the proceeds will be used by the government "for general purposes."

But it is known that the New Mercury Light Duties: Handsome, yes! But the real beauty of Mercury Light Duties is their functional design. Mercury Styleside load capacities are as big, and in most cases bigger, than comparable makes. Cabs are roomy, comfortable—offer the ultimate in driver comfort. Optional non-slip differential keeps you moving in mud or snow. And a choice of Six or V-8 engines gives you the power, performance and economy to pay off on your jobs.

New Mercury Medium and Heavy Duties: From Canada's lowest-priced tilt cab line to mighty conventional and tandems, Mercury pares away deadweight—provides top capacities within legal limits for highway hauling, and even bigger capacities for off-the-road jobs. In medium duties, modern six engine stretches gas, delivers instant power for city delivery. Super Duty V-8's are still the mightiest gasoline-powered engines. All run best on regular gas.

Certain features illustrated or mentioned are standard on some models, optional at extra cost on others.

Canada's top payoff in trucks

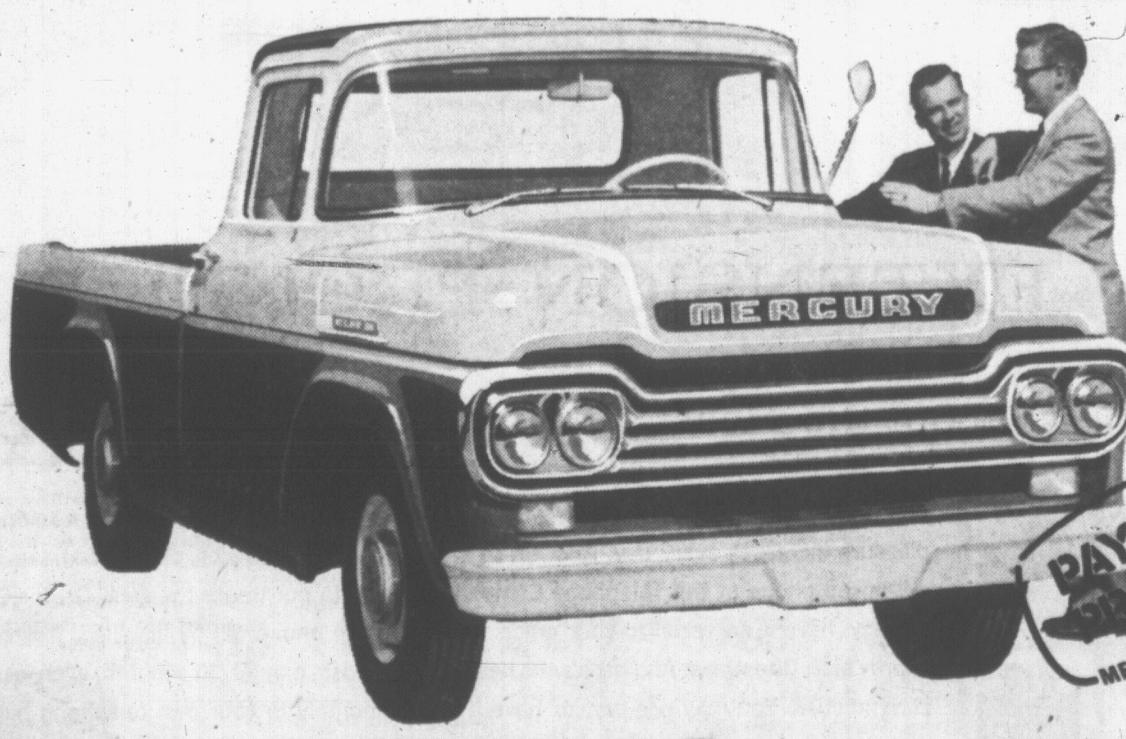

New Mercury Trucks, Six or V-8, are payoff proved for '59

Mercury Trucks are on-the-job across Canada. They're proving that high performance and low operating costs can go together. And this is the true test of a truck's worth.

The new Mercury Styleside Pickup is a fine example. The handsome cab-wide-box design was an industry first. And it still is the easiest to load from side or rear. Styleside design comes in three body lengths: 6½, 8 and 9-ft. Every year sees new Mercury improvements based on your experience. New bumper-to-ground clearance pays off with new freedom in starting up sharp ramps, steep grades. New automatic transmission pays off with two driving ranges that tailor performance to all conditions. And, like every Mercury Truck for '59, modern short-stroke Six and V-8 engines are designed to run best on lower-priced, regular gasoline.

Get the full story today of Canada's payoff-proved pickups and panels, conventionals, tilt cabs and tandems from your Mercury Truck dealer.

Saanich Chalks Up Record Year; Other Municipalities Show Gains

Saanich has chalked up the biggest house-building year in its history with a month still left before the 1958 building permit books are closed.

A total of 764 permits for $8,695,800 worth of dwelling construction were issued this year to the end of November, the municipal building department said today.

In 1955, the previous record year, a total of 754 dwelling permits were issued during the full 12 months. They were valued at $4,925,390.

Last month, municipality issued 88 permits worth $731,150 including 64 dwelling permits worth $711,500. Last year's November total was 95 permits worth $987,540 including 59 dwelling permits valued at $661,200.

$10.2 MILLION

The 11-month total for all types of construction this year is 1,270 permits valued at $10,276,337 including the dwelling permits.

The 11-month total for 1957 was 926 permits worth $7,035,240 including 451 dwelling permits valued at $6,201,400.

The 11-month totals for 1958 in the other three municipalities also showed gains over last year.

Victoria issued 6,698 permits worth $6,856,851 to the end of November compared with 6,756 permits valued at $6,612,757.

Union Award Won by City Truck Driver

A Victoria truck-driver has been named one of five Canadians to be awarded a scholarship to the American Labor Education Service fifth residential school on world affairs in New York City.

He is R. A. Fletcher, recipient of a scholarship donated by the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers to employees for outstanding service to the trade union movement and the community.

The scholarship plan, unique among Canadian unions, was founded in recognition of leadership given union education by the late Harry Allan Chappell of Winnipeg, national president of the brotherhood from 1952 until his death in 1955.

This is the second year of the scholarships. They give students a chance to visit United Nations committees and the UN General Assembly in session.

My nerves grated from lack of sleep. Indigestion bothered me. I felt jittery, depressed, drained of all ambition and energy.

Some people suffer unpleasantness because their systems are aggravated by elements in everyday beverages. This is particularly true of those with "nervous" temperaments.

While some people can drink tea, coffee, cocoa and some soft drinks without harm, others cannot.

Postum does not contain stimulants such as caffeine, theophylline or theobromine which can rob you of sleep, irritate your nerves, speed up pulse with subsequent depressing let-down. Postum does not contain tannin to give you indigestion, nor any other ingredient to cause you harm.

Switch to Instant Postum, the beverage of comfort! Postum tastes and acts like no other beverage. Postum has its own distinctive flavor. Make Postum instantly, right in your cup. Just add freshly boiling water, or hot milk, stir and enjoy.

SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL . . . 84 on Sunday

3 Generations Honor Birthday

LONDON (AP)—Surrounded by his children and grandchildren, Sir Winston Churchill observed his 84th birthday Sunday at Chartwell, his country home south of London.

It was misty and cheerless outside but there was warmth inside as three generations of Churchills gathered around a fabulous birthday cake, three tiers high and covered with green icing and red marzipan roses.

The post office at nearby Seven Oaks had a busy Sunday, keeping open to deliver hundreds of congratulatory telegrams. A message from the Queen extended "all good wishes" and warm greetings came also from President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan.

BOOK OF ROSES

Churchill's children, Randolph, Diana, Sarah and Mary, gave the most intimate present to the old statesman—two more pages for the Book of Roses which they gave him on his golden wedding anniversary last September.

The book contains water colors by British artists of the 28 varieties that grow in the "avenue of roses" in the grounds at Chartwell.

CAN'T ANSWER ALL

Churchill was pleased by the flood of messages, but appalled at the prospect of trying to answer them all. He asked the press to convey his thanks.

Famed Explorer of Poles Sir Hubert Wilkins Dies

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — Sir Hubert Wilkins, famed explorer of the North and South Poles, was found dead today in his hotel room. He was 72.

Sir Hubert had an office in nearby Natick where he was a geographer with the United States army's quartermaster research and development centre.

Sir Hubert spent five summers and portions of 26 winters in Arctic regions. He was recognized as an authority on extreme climates, whether cold or hot.

He proved the feasibility of flight over the ice caps of the Polar wastes.

VISITED 72 NATIONS

Asked once to figure how many countries in the world he had visited, Sir Hubert replied 72.

He served as consultant to the chief of the environmental protection division of the quartermaster corps.

While walking over the Polar ice in 1914 he saw and studied "floating islands" but didn't think much of them as bases. He said:

"These ice islands will break up and melt eventually . . . It would be better to take an island with you and place it wherever needed. This can be done by using a submersible, mobile vessel."

"I'd much rather live under the ice than on it. Underneath the ice it can't be colder than the freezing point of sea water. That's far more bearable than the below zero conditions on top."

Long recognized as an authority on submarine exploration, Wilkins said that nowadays with the upper end of a submarine's snorkel electrically heated, "there are practically no places where you can't penetrate the ice at will, and the snorkel used as an elevator can bring up anything from a man to an aircraft."

The book contains water colors by British artists of the 28 varieties that grow in the "avenue of roses" in the grounds at Chartwell.

CUBAN ARMY OFFICERS PLOT AGAINST BATISTA

HAVANA (Reuters) — Six Cuban army officers have been arrested following the discovery of a plot against the regime of President Fulgencio Batista, it was announced on Sunday.

THIRD SWING TWO TOO LATE

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Ray Barker hit his first ball into creek on the par-three fifth hole at the local golf course Sunday.

Then he knocked his second tee shot into the creek.

Laboring under a four-stroke penalty, Barker hit his next tee shot to the green. The ball went in for a hole-in-one and a double bogey.

Plumbers Ask Standard Regulations

An Association of the Plumbing and Pipefitting Industry request for standardizing plumbing regulations throughout Greater Victoria has been referred to the intermunicipal committee.

Ald. Arthur Dowell said "this is another reason for amalgamation."

Ald. Elmer McEwen said the request should be given serious consideration because it was silly for plumbers to do the same job four different ways because the municipalities were setting separate policies.

ALL CANADA LAUGHED at Victoria's rib-tickling spoof of itself when this float passed television cameras in Grey Cup parade.

MONTE ROBERTS

Well, would you look at that calendar, would you. December I already. It's almost too late to do your Christmas hinting early.

And it is almost too late to solve a problem which has been with me for the past 11 months.

What shall I do with the Christmas cards I forgot to mail last Christmas?

They are very fine Christmas cards, I might say; full of Joy to the World, Rest ye, Merry, and candlelight and mellow wine.

But they do not seem to be accomplishing very much, tucked away in the back-corner of my bottom drawer.

You must admit, they present a problem. Suppose I mailed them out today.

Would my friends realize I was mailing out last year's cards, just a trifle late?

Or would they think I was mailing THIS year's cards, just a trifle early?

In the latter case, I would be very embarrassed. Because, if I were to mail the cards EARLY, my friends would think I was doing so to make sure I get on THEIR Christmas list.

And if there is one type I hate, it is the pushy type who sends out his cards early, to make sure he gets cards in return.

Possibly I could solve the problem by waiting until the appropriate date, say Christmas Eve (put down that blunt instrument, Mr. Postmaster, I'm only kidding) and mail one, but two, cards to each and every customer.

Trouble is, this might appear ostentatious, and if there is one type I hate even more than the type mentioned above, it is the type who is ostentatious about his Christmas cards.

If I could only figure out some way of sending the cards through the mails backward, all might be well.

Otherwise, I'll have to try to forget the whole thing. And, based on past performance, I probably will.

Merry Christmas to you, too.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Oak Bay vandals smashed glass in a driveway, rang a number of doorbells and threw rotten eggs on a porch between Dewdney and Hampshire in a half-hour period Saturday night.

A half-dozen youths ran off before police arrived.

Two naval seamen reported to authorities Saturday they had been assaulted and robbed of $27 by four men in an alley behind a Government street dance hall Friday night.

The victims, identified as D. Koško and D. Hyslop, were treated at HMCS Naden hospital for head and hand injuries.

According to a witness who said he saw the men come out of the alleyway behind 1313 Club, at 1313 Government, one of the assailants was in naval uniform and walked with a limp. The other three wore "civvies," he said.

A Hungarian immigrant accused of threatening a woman with a carving knife in her apartment last week was committed for trial today on a charge of having an offensive weapon in his possession.

Peter Szoke, 802 Blanshard, appeared at a preliminary hearing before Magistrate H. C. Hall.

He was arrested by city police Nov. 22 after Mrs. Gladys Davidson, 802 Blanshard, complained Szoke threatened to kill her.

George Woodford, 139 Goward, was fined $200 for impaired driving and $50 for failing to remain at the scene of an accident when he appeared in Colwood RCMP court Saturday.

Police said his car side-swiped another on Admirals Friday night.

Election of officers will be held at a meeting of the Old Age Pensioners' Association, Victoria branch No. 1, Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

Robert George Gibb, 4103 Torquay, was given three concurrent sentences of 30 days in jail when he appeared in Saanich police court today.

He had earlier pleaded guilty to being in possession of another person's driver's licence, being a minor in possession of liquor and driving while under suspension.

The second charge dated back to May 28, when he was found at Tillicum Outdoor Theatre with three dozen bottles of beer, a bottle of wine, two other boys and three girls.

Bomb-Maker Gets 2 Years

VERNON (CP)—Alex Konkin, 26, Winfield, B.C., Saturday was convicted by an assize court jury here on five charges of conspiracy to make and possession of an explosive substance to cause serious damage to property.

Konkin was sentenced to two years by Mr. Justice Arthur Lord.

The 11-man and one-woman jury failed to reach agreement in the case of Sam Konkin, 28, Alex's brother, Mr. Justice Lord ordered a re-trial at the next assizes here.

The jury debated 4½ hours before bringing in its verdict.

Mr. Justice Lord renewed Sam Konkin's $10,000 bail order.

Three others—John Antuffe, 24; John Nazaroff, 22, and George Woykin, 21—all were acquitted earlier in the 14-day trial. The five men were charged by police after a series of bombings and threatened bombings in the Okanagan Valley of Central B.C. in June.

Alex Konkin was convicted on four charges of conspiracy to make an explosive substance to cause serious damage to property and one charge with being unlawfully in possession of an explosive substance.

In passing sentence, Mr. Justice Lord told Alex Konkin he could have been imprisoned for up to 14 years and warned him of the possibilities of maiming or killing someone through indiscriminate use of explosives.

The wives of both men broke down and cried in court after hearing the verdicts.

RECORD 2,815 MEN OUT OF WORK IN CITY

Number of men out of work in Victoria last week jumped by 154, boosting the total to a record 2,815. But unemployed women's total dropped by 42 to 1,410.

Combined unemployed figure now stands at 4,225, compared to 4,113 last week.

Increase in men looking for work followed the completion of a number of building jobs, while the start of the Christmas rush brought the easing of the women's total.

Meanwhile, an employment office spokesman said the federal winter work program, due to reach its peak in mid-January, is already having some effect in more "summer" jobs being done in the winter.

Leading Surveyor Dies in City at 84

Richard Frederick Davy, 84, of 2024 Newton Street, who carried out extensive explorative surveys for the Canadian government, died here Saturday.

Well-known in Victoria, Mr. Davy was born in Ottawa and for many years survey and mapped a large section of northwestern Quebec. He predicted at the time that the area would become a major gold producing region.

He came to Victoria 35 years ago.

He was a member of the Engineering Institute of Canada and an active member of Christ Church Cathedral.

50 Homeless in P. Rupert Fire

(From CP Dispatches)

PRINCE RUPERT — At least 50 persons were left homeless when a three-alarm fire raged through a rooming house and an adjacent apartment block Saturday night, five blocks from the city centre.

Chief Becker said the rooming house was purchased recently by the same man who formerly owned the King George Hotel which burned several years ago with the loss of five lives.

Nanaimo Saturday night and apparently drowned has been identified as Douglas McKeever, 19, of Vancouver.

Quartermaster L. C. McGowan of the Nanaimo said Sunday he saw the youth standing on a ledge which projects at the stern of the boat, below the deckline.

McGowan said he threw McKeever a lifebelt, "which he must have missed."

The crew from the Princess

Elaine searched for McKeever without success.

Atom Plane Reported Airborne for Russians

U.S. Aviation Magazine Says It's Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia already is flying a nuclear-powered bomber, the magazine Aviation Week reports. It says the United States is at least four years behind Russia in this respect.

The magazine said the Russian bomber was completed six months ago and has been flying in the Moscow area for at least two months. Its test flights there have been noted by observers from both Communist and non-Communist countries, the magazine added.

The nuclear-powered plane is a military prototype, not just a conventional plane fitted with an experimental nuclear power plant for test purposes, the report said.

The nuclear power plant was described as the simplest kind of an atomic engine, a direct air cycle design similar to that being developed by the U.S.

'SCEPTICAL'

In Washington Defence Secretary Neil H. McElroy said he is "highly sceptical" of reports that Russia has flown the world's first atom-powered plane.

He conceded that the Soviets may have a "slight lead" over the U.S. in ultimate development of a nuclear aircraft.

McElroy said in an interview he does not know if the report is true or not, but added that "I am highly sceptical of it."

"But if it is true," he said, "it would be a tremendous jolt to us in this country."

He said the U.S. "does not contemplate any change" in its program to develop and build a plane operated by nuclear power even though the Soviets may have a "slight lead."

Nearly three years ago, in January, 1956, the U.S. first used a nuclear reactor to provide the heat for a turbo-jet engine.

The AEC said tests of the laboratory model demonstrated the feasibility of the engine, designed by the General Electric Company.

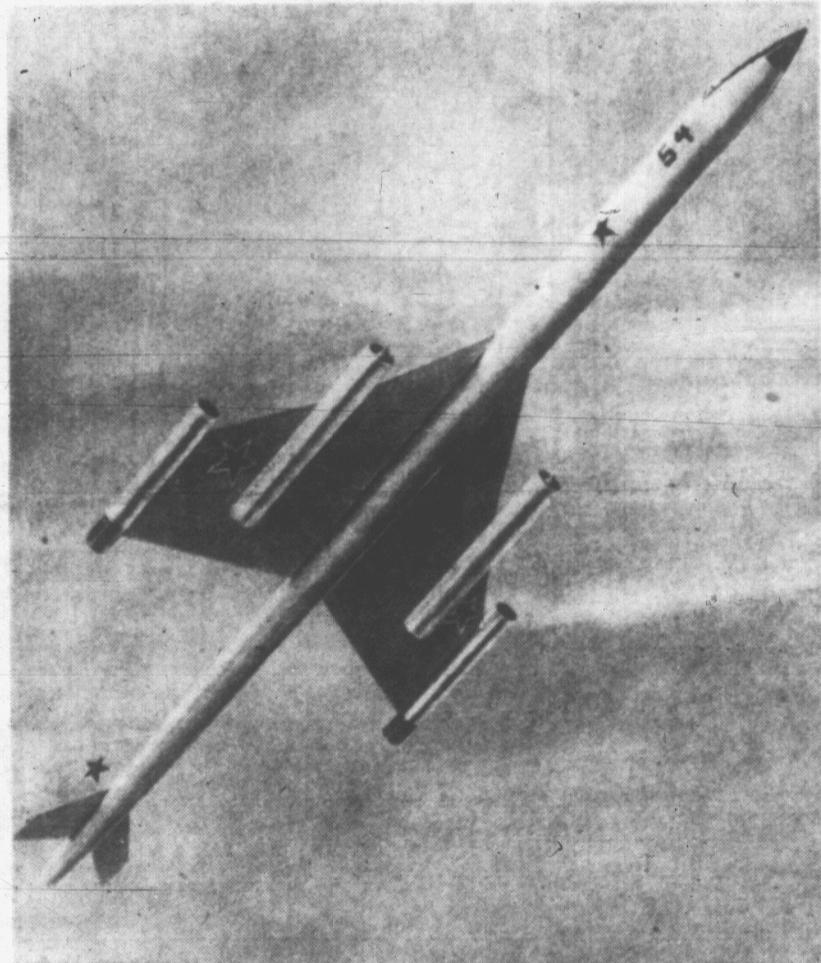

No airplane has yet been built to go with the engine, although work on design studies have been under way for several years. Aviation Week said the Russian plane

MOSCOW (AP)—Swift aircraft of undetermined design are spinning vapor trails high over Moscow these days. There is speculation the Russians may be using nuclear power in one or more of the mystery craft.

Official Soviet confirmation of this possibility is lacking, although it is public knowledge that Russian designers and scientists have long been hard at work on the problem.

100 FORCED FROM HOMES AT ALBERNI

ALBERNI—Police and civil defence officials evacuated 100 persons from their homes in the Kitsucksik Creek area early today when the creek burst its banks and flooded about 30 properties to depths up to five feet.

The creek, swollen by 52 hours of continuous heavy rain, broke loose at about 5 a.m. Police and others had to use boats to reach the homes of householders and tell them of their plight.

The creek waters "backed up" when the Somass River, chief drainage stream for the whole of the valley area, could not handle the additional flooding.

New Briggs Blast On Government Bond Financing

The refinancing plan proposed by the B.C. government for B.C. Power Commission debt would hurt other government agencies as well as the BCPC, dismissed general manager H. Lee Briggs said today.

Total cost to the province would be $600,000 annually.

He had earlier estimated cost to the power commission would be from $215,000 to $260,000 each year.

He said, despite statements by Premier Bennett that negotiations were incomplete, the premier had ordered the refinancing to be completed before the end of the current fiscal year.

Mr. Briggs was guest speaker at an Empress Hotel luncheon of the public affairs group of Victoria Chamber of Commerce. He was to repeat the address tonight at 6 at Courtenay.

BOND ISSUE
He explained the BCPC had been financed by issue of $32,000,000 in bonds by the province. The BCPC had built up a sinking fund against the loans of $6,000,000.

The difference between these amounts, $26,000,000, is the amount which the premier has asked be refinanced, said Mr. Briggs.

Mr. Briggs said the BCPC was to borrow an additional $26,000,000 to build the sinking fund to a size equaling the bonds still outstanding.

POLITICAL PROMISE
This would enable the premier to fulfill his political promise to have the province debt-free by 1960.

The BCPC would be solely responsible for repaying the new loan at higher interest rates.

Mr. Briggs said the premier had proposed the power commission either float a $26,000,000 bond issue "... where the rate last month was 5.1 per cent interest," or float a bond issue which would be taken up by various provincial trust funds which would be required to receive 4 per cent interest.

Mr. Briggs felt "the various trust funds of the provincial government agencies would be required to take up the new low interest issue."

In other words, the government agencies would be made to invest money at 4 per cent when the market return for bond issues of this sort at present is 5.1 per cent.

Children, Nun Trapped After Mystery Blast

CHICAGO (AP)—An explosion threw killing flames through a Roman Catholic grade school today and one official estimated the death toll at close to 60.

There were 15 bodies in the morgue, five in hospitals and others trapped inside Our Lady of the Angels school on the northwest side.

One of the dead was a fifth-grade teacher, Sister Mary Clara Therese.

Rev. William McManus, superintendent of schools for the arch-diocese of Chicago, estimated the toll at close to 60.

SIXTY BODIES

"I've seen 60 bodies go out," he told a reporter.

Firemen reported a second-floor classroom contained the bodies of 24 persons, two of them nuns.

The school had a capacity of 1,400 but whether all were present when the fire broke out was not immediately known.

The dead included both boys and girls.

Some children, their clothing ablaze, leaped to the ground from the second floor of the two-story Our Lady of the Angels Roman Catholic school. Some were hurt in the leaps.

Msgr. William J. Gorman, chaplain for the fire department, said 25 or 30 children and nuns who were trapped on the second floor were carried down ladders by firemen.

WHERE ARE CHILDREN?

Most of them, he said, appeared dead or near death.

A throng of neighbors and parents gathered at the scene and pressed against police lines.

"Where are our children?" mothers wept.

The cause of the fire was not determined immediately but there were reports of an explosion in the building.

"MILK FOR HUNGRY CHILDREN"

1½c Buys Month's Supply

There couldn't be a better humanitarian bargain!

Canada has several million pounds of dried milk, held by the government; the government is giving it away to starving children in other sections of the world.

It's merely a question of transportation. This is where such an agency as the Unitarian Service Committee steps in, a veteran organization of 13 years in a non-political, non-denominational movement to help the children of the world.

Ocean transport costs to Korea, Hong Kong and India average about 1½ cents per pound for the free powdered milk. One pound makes 30 glasses, sufficient for one glass a day for a month for a child.

So, in effect, 1½ cents feeds a hungry child milk for one month!

The Victoria Daily Times, for the sixth consecutive year, is conducting a campaign to help underprivileged children.

Last year Victorians contributed nearly $9,500 in a "T-Bricks for Korea" drive which built a pavilion for tubercular children.

And in 1953, open-hearted Victorians gave $11,000 for Korean children. The money went to buy barley, a staple and vital food.

This year's campaign is under the name "Milk for the Hungry Children."

Donations may be made at the Times office, 2631 Douglas, or the downtown office, 1215 Broad Street, either in person or by mail.

Cheques should be made out to the "Times Milk for the Hungry Children Fund." All donations are deductible for income tax purposes. Names of donors will be published daily, although pseudonyms will be used if requested.

LONDON — The Royal Family issued a formal denial on Sunday that Queen Mother Elizabeth has been regularly visited by a 41-year-old Irishman who reads the future from a crystal ball.

The denial followed a story

In The Sunday Pictorial saying the 58-year-old Queen Mother was regularly consulting Tipperary-born crystal gazer Tom Corbett.

The Pictorial said Corbett regularly goes to the Queen Mother's residence at Clarence House by cab and added:

"He reads the crystal ball for her."

"Why does the Queen Mother consult him? The marriage problems and prospects of Princess Margaret are a natural field."

The Pictorial story was by its society columnist Rex North. It said Corbett, formerly a cabaret attraction, was taken to the Queen Mother by a lady-in-waiting and since then had visited her about 12 times. From time to time, it said, flowers arrive at his apartment from Clarence House.

LONDON — Gareth Jones, 35, played the part of a man with a weak heart in a television play here Sunday night. Part way through the performance he collapsed with a heart attack and died in his dressing room.

Mr. Briggs asked.

"What the minister of finance and his financial advisers are doing, then, in negotiating with the B.C. Power Commissioners and an obstreperous general manager is to arrive at how small or how big a portion of these increased interest costs are to be shouldered by the Power Commission, because the other provincial trust funds for which the minister of finance is responsible, will in any event be required to take up the remainder of the burden of the extra costs represented by the difference between 3.1 per cent and 5.1 per cent."

POLITICAL WHIM

"To satisfy the political whims of the leaders of the present government, then, the trust cost of the refinancing plan now proposed is in the order of $600,000 extra per annum. This extra cost would be paid for partly by the customers of the Power Commission, and partly by the various trust funds of the provincial government agencies which would be required to take up the new, low interest issues."

"This is a major instance which signifies the grossness of ineptness by the premier of this province and his financial advisers, or else it signifies a planned design on their part."

There is no cause for alarm, the officials said.

Sudden Wind Whips Area Into Turmoil

COLWOOD — A chain reaction started Saturday afternoon by a brief and sudden windstorm had the district in a turmoil for more than one hour.

This is the sequence of events:

The wind, that reached 54 miles per hour, blew down a power line, which hit a man-hole cover and tangled with a domestic power line.

This both electrified the plumbing and burned out the wiring in a home at 3300 Painter Road, and set fire to the home.

PHONES OUT

It also knocked out telephone service so firemen could not be called, made the water system unsafe to connect to when the firemen did finally arrive, made their smoke ejectors useless, and deprived most of the district of the Grey Cup game on television.

RCMP were called about the broken wire, and they called Colwood Volunteer Fire Department. More trouble arose when firemen found the big alarm siren on the hall would not work to call other firemen, but they used those on their trucks.

HIS OWN HOME

James Bryan, captain in the HMC Dockyard fire department and member of the Colwood crew, responded to the alarm and found out en route he was racing to save his own home.

Fire and smoke damage at his home was estimated at $1,000.

DON'T SEND SMOKES TO TROOPS

Don't send cigarettes to servicemen in Germany this Christmas, army authorities advise. They can get them cheaper over there.

Army headquarters said duty-free cigarettes are "readily available" to Canadians serving in Germany. Any sent through the mail would be liable to full German customs duty.

All parcels must carry a Post Office declaration form, be clearly marked "Gift Parcel," and not exceed $46 in value.

The army said that full information on restricted articles and postal regulations can be obtained from any local post office.

CAPTAINS CARRY CUP
Grant and co-captains Herb Gray and Bud Tinsley carried the Grey Cup to a platform set up at centre ice.

Tinsley, a native of Texas and now a Canadian citizen after nine years with Bombers, said: "I believe this is the happiest moment of my whole life."

Halfback Kenny Ploen voiced the thanks of the American players on the club.

"We thought Vancouver was very warm but if there is a warmer town in Canada than Winnipeg I have never visited it. We Americans feel proud to be a part of this wonderful championship football team of Canada."

Gord Rowland, defensive backfielder voted the West's outstanding player, said the people of Winnipeg inspired the club to win.

HOPE TO KEEP

Grant said he hopes Bombers "have started a trend and can keep that Grey Cup in Winnipeg for a long time." They last won it in 1941.

Mr. Willis said Winnipeg had great football teams in the past "but this is the greatest."

He said Grant is the greatest coach Winnipeg has had and the club made up of "gentlemen who also happen to be able to play football."

The city is to tender a luncheon to the Blue Bombers and make a presentation to each player.

... rift on rail hike

Threat to Quit Cabinet Denied

OTTAWA (UPI)—Informed sources said today that Trade Minister Gordon Churchill at one point threatened to resign from the cabinet over the approval last week of a 17-percent freight rate increase for the railways.

Sources said Churchill, a senior member of the cabinet, did not see eye-to-eye with some of his colleagues of a decision to uphold the increase, authorized two weeks ago by the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Word of the rift reached the capital from Malaya where touring Prime Minister John

Diefenbaker and his party were visiting. Acting Prime Minister Howard Green was in communication with Diefenbaker before and after the cabinet's decision was handed down last Wednesday.

Churchill himself said there had been "the usual discussion" in the cabinet, but he denied there had been any threats of resignation.

Asked if he was in agreement with the cabinet's decision to let the increase stand, the 60-year-old Winnipeg barrister replied:

"Frankly, I don't want to say anything about it."

The cabinet approved the increase at a hearing held last Monday. The cabinet in April threw out an earlier freight rate increase and declared a hold-the-line policy on wages and prices.

4 Men Hurt In 'U' Crash

ALBERNI (CP) — Four men were sent to West Coast General Hospital and two cars were demolished in a collision on Beaver Creek Road early Sunday.

According to RCMP, a late model car driven by Donald W. King was making a turn on Beaver Creek Road at Compton Road, just at Alberni's city limits, when another vehicle driven by Daniel John Dockendorff and proceeding south, crashed into it.

King was thrown into the back seat of his car while his passenger, Samuel McDonald, was thrown to the side of the road. James Lee, a passenger in the dockendorff car, was found unconscious.

Later the two drivers were released from hospital. McDonald was being treated for arm and leg injuries and Lee for shock, and a crushed arm and hand.
